Neither U. S. Nor RUSSIA Can Fight a Major War

By BROOKS ATKINSON
(Condensed from New York Times)

BETWEEN the United States and Soviet Russia political relations are obviously serious and possibly grave. But despite the bitterness apparent on every level, they are not dangerous now. Although the pure logic of our relations has pointed toward war for at least two years, war is impossible now and by no means inevitable eventually.

We are going through a period of armed truce. Strict Marxians believe that communism and capitalism will have to fight a war eventually, and thousands of non-doctrinaire Americans, with a shrug of their shoulders, have for years expressed the same opinion. But Soviet and American political interests have not clashed yet and need never clash if the Soviets remain within the orbit we formally acknowledged eighteen months ago as their legitimate sphere of influence—that is, along their own borders.

Important Factors

Whether or not our relations descend from grave to dangerous depends upon the experience both have in trying to maintain the peace over the next five years, upon the stability of France, the control of Germany's recovery by all the Allies and, most of all, upon the strength of Democratic life inside the United States.

At present neither the Soviet Union nor the United States is prepared to fight a major war against a powerful opponent, or, specifically, against the other. In view of the present condition of the Soviet Union, Russia unaided whelming; factories, railroads, public buildings, mines, collective farms and homes were wrecked, made unusable or uninhabitable. The Soviet Union is enormous; it has great capacities, its recuperative powers are remarkable, and its people are hardy, vigorous and good-hearted. But no country can absorb so much destruction and at the same time fight a powerful opponent.

Third, Russia has been suffering for several months from a serious shortage of food. Although growing conditions may be good this year, the shortage of agricultural machinery, fertilizers and animals will continue and limit the size of the harvest. Before Russia can fight a war against a major opponent it will have to solve some of its most critical internal conditions, which ultimately affect the morale and strength of the people.

There is another factor—less tangible but real—that weighs against war. The Russian people love peace as passionately as any in the world. Having suffered deeply during the war they sacrificed so much to win, they would be dejected by the prospect of another war against a country which, there is aggression and promote its influence. Ultimately it expects to be the inspiration and source of power for the world. It expects capitalism to collapse; and the economic and political paralysis of Western Europe and the poverty of England seem to the Russians to confirm the Karl Marx doctrine. Despite the truculence and delusions of the Soviet Government, the Russian people are not aggressive; and if there is anything they do not want, it is another major war piled on top of the misery and suffering they are still going through.

U. S. Not Warlike

Nor is the attitude of the United States warlike. In respect to food and productive plant, we are in the strongest position of any country in the world. But the people of America do not want a war, never did and never will. The rapidity with which we have permitted our military strength to disintegrate is the true measure of our peaceful intentions. No one who knows anything about warfare can talk complacently about going to war in cold blood, as though all that were needed would be the mechanical process of dropping a few atomic bombs.

Furthermore, it is doubtful that so large and loosely organized a country as Russia could be conquered in that mechanical fashion. With our tight economic and cultural system, which exists by infinite interdependence, America would be more vulnerable to atomic warfare; and since an atomic bomb attack would be not a remote Pearl Harbor but a surprise attack at the heart of our country, we would lose the element of time that in the past has made it possible to prepare defenses.

the deliberate use of atom bombs on a recent ally would, in the first place, leave the majority of the Russian people unharmed, build up undying hatred and resistance in the hearts of a patriotic people and also in sympathetic people in other countries; and, in the third place, it would nullify before the world every spiritual value we maintain that we stand for.

Some people talk very big in this country—as big as the bellwethers of the Russian Communist party. But the facts of our current military position hardly bear out the belligerence of our idle conversation. For America's distaste for military service amounts to a passion. Remember two years ago? The minute the shooting war was over the boys everywhere wanted to drop their guns and hurry home, and the folks at home could hardly wait for the Army to be disbanded. America's enthusiasm for leaving a war is like the enthusiasm of students for the end of the school year—joyful and disorderly. As an American General once bitterly declared, we have only two speeds—five miles an hour and a hundred miles an hour.

Compulsory military service has now lapsed because Americans dislike it, although the world is still unsettled and our interests are far from secure. It has been impossible to keep experienced armies of occupation in Germany and Japan. The army we have now has a minimum of training and service, and man for man could not stand against trained Russian soldiers in Europe. Never has a meagerly trained American army cost so much and yielded so little in military effectiveness. If no other country succeeds in manufacturing atomic bombs and we have twelve or fourteen months of leeway we could build another army on what is left from the last. But despite some eloquent broadsides by voluble patriots we are not prepared for war today.

War between the United States and Soviet Russia would be the ultimate catastrophe. Neither side could win. The destruction of human life would be harrowing. The world could not recover for generations. Let's not talk so casually about war.

For the next five years, and probably longer, war is not an immediate could not fight an aggressive war against a modern army for three reasons.

First, socialism in Russia has not yet succeeded in bringing a backward country so far forward. Even before the war life was meager and hard and the needs of the Russian people were much greater than Russian production possibly could satisfy.

Second, the destruction by the invading Nazi armies was calamitous. At least seven million people were killed, and probably many more than that. Millions more were displaced and driven away from homes, farms and factories. The destruction of plants in the Ukraine and Byelo-Russia was over-

There is another factor—less tangible but real—that weighs against war. The Russian people love peace as passionately as any in the world. Having suffered deeply during the war they sacrificed so much to win, they would be dejected by the prospect of another war against a country which, there is

Group of average American people.

Since no other country has a stockpile of these terrible weapons, an attack on the United States is not possible now. But an attack by the United States is possible in fact; that is, we have the weapons. But it could scarcely succeed on the easy terms many people envision. What is certain is that

World's Communists Number 20,000,000

(Grit Magazine)

WITH the U. S. definitely committed to a program to combat the spread of communism in Europe and elsewhere, many an American citizen is mulling this question:

How strong in numbers is the communist party in the world?

The answer: About 20,000,000 active members.

The bulk of this party membership—about 85 per cent—is in Europe. This is largely because Soviet Russia—the seat of communism and which directs the international party—is in Europe, or at least the important part of it. There are 6,000,000 communist party members in Russia. But there are also more than 2,000,000 each in Germany, France and Italy. In fact, there are almost twice as many members in Europe outside Russia as there are within the bounds of the Soviet Union—about 11,300,000 as compared with the 6,000,000 mentioned above.

Official Figure 18,592,300

At an official communist gathering in London last spring, total membership was given out as 18,592,000 in 66 countries of the world. However, it is difficult to obtain strictly accurate figures on the total number of communists, and estimates in many cases must be accepted warily. This is so because in many countries the communist party is illegal, resulting in a large number of concealed memberships. In others communist leaders purposely exaggerate the number of members in order to impress the world and as propaganda.

For example, the communist party of China lists its membership as 2,000,000. But estimates of other less biased sources pare this figure down considerably—to as low as 200,000 in some cases. However, it seems certain that the communist party in China is the largest outside Europe.

Best informed estimates place the number of communists in the U. S. at about 70,000—a small number as compared with some European countries. And in the whole of North America there are only 141,000 party members. Canada has around 23,000; Mexico, 8,000, and Cuba, 40,000.

More in South America

South America has more than twice as many communists—about 340,000—as its neighbor continent. However, in Brazil, where there were 200,000, the party has been outlawed. But its members must be taken into account in any South American total, because Brazilian communists undoubtedly are operating underground. Chile is next, with 40,000, while Peru has 35,000; Argentina, 30,000; Venezuela, 20,000, and Colombia, 5,000.

Up until the time Brazil's communist party was suppressed, it ranked next to China in the number of communists outside Europe.

Outside Russia, the largest communist concentration is in Germany, where

A communist party membership of 6,000,000 rules Russia, a nation of nearly 200,000,000 people.

there are an estimated 2,221,125 party members, including the S. E. D., leading party of the Russian zone, formed by a merger of the communists and social democrats. France and Italy are next with their 2,000,000-plus communists each, and Czechoslovakia ranks fourth in Europe, with more than 1,700,000.

Other European Countries

Elsewhere in Europe communists are distributed about as follows: Austria, 175,000; Belgium, 100,000; Great Britain, 43,000; Bulgaria, 850,000; Denmark, 60,000; Finland, 40,000; Greece, 75,000; Hungary, 630,000; Iceland, 1,000; The Netherlands, 60,000; Norway, 34,000; Poland, 600,000 (including socialists); Rumania, 500,000; Spain, 400; Sweden, 156,000; Switzerland, 25,000.

Thus the estimated total for Europe is about 17,300,000. However, this does not include Yugoslavia, for which no figures are available but where the communist party is strong and may have as many as Czechoslovakia. And 400 undoubtedly is not a true figure for hotly anti-communist Franco Spain, where the estimate is furnished by the police.

Accepting the 2,000,000 figure of Chinese communist officials at face value, there are about 2,301,000 party members all told in Asia. Indonesia ranks second, with 100,000, and Japan

TEXAS WHEAT CROP 142,405,000 Bushels

By BOOTH MOONEY

1239 Liberty Bank Bldg., Dallas, Texas.

TEXAS has never seen anything like the golden flood of wheat that was harvested in the State during June and July. If advance estimates of the U. S. Department of Agriculture are fulfilled, the 1947 wheat crop in Texas will total 142,405,000 bushels. That is three times as large as the State's 10-year average and 60 million bushels larger than the previous record crop of 1944.

Texas wheat is high in protein and gluten, some years higher than any other State.

The crop average this year was 20 to 25 bushels an acre and was worth about $300,000,000 to producers.

Most of the Texas wheat crop is grown on the high plains. More than 5,000,000 acres were harvested in the Panhandle region. Thousands of tractors, combines, trucks, along with thousands of field hands, were at work day and night to harvest and move the wheat.

Timely Rains

The high plains regions last year suffered a near-drought and barely produced an average crop. But this year timely rains fell and produced a record-breaking crop. That, agricultural experts say, often happens after a drought which enables the land to rest.

Storage is still a problem, and the problem is complicated by an inadequate supply of boxcars in which to ship the wheat. Landowners have bargained for tents, empty buildings, any covering for storing the most valuable crop ever raised in Texas.

This situation was foreseen. Before the harvest started, seasoned grain men had predicted that, despite heroic efforts of railroad agents to provide equipment, storage and shipping conditions would be inadequate.

"I expect to see grain piled all over the high plains from Plainview to Dalhart. Panhandle facilities simply cannot take care of the situation either on farms, at terminals or at rural elevators," Clarence Lee, president of the J. C. Crouch Grain Company, said.

Harvested by Combine

Practically 95 per cent of Texas wheat is harvested by combine. The combine is a marvelous machine. It cuts and threshes the straw at one operation. Trucks follow alongside the combine and as the grain is threshed work with their combines as early as May in South Central Texas and follow the wheat belt on north as far as Canada where the crop is harvested as late as October. Price paid to combine owners for cutting and threshing is $3 to $3.50 an acre.

Big Wheat Fields

Some big yields have been reported from the upper Panhandle. Walter Struve, of Hale County, said his wheat averaged 40 bushels an acre. Lester White, also of Hale County, said his wheat averaged 37½ bushels per acre.

Most of the wheat tested 60 to 62 pounds per bushel. Grain elevator officials were predicting part of the bumper crop will have to be dumped on the ground due to the lack of storage and shipping facilities.

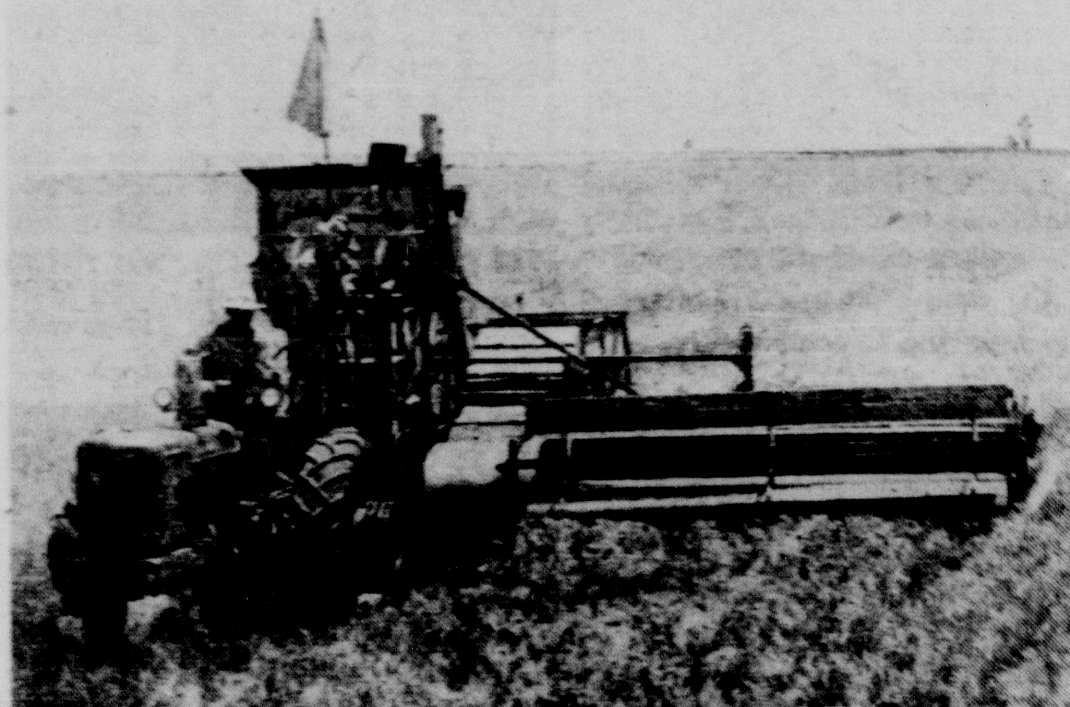

In reply to a question as to the extent wheat may be damaged when piled in the open on the ground, Mr. Wimberly, of Oldham county, said, "If wheat is piled on the ground cone-shaped with sloping sides and ditched around, there is practically no damage to it from rainfall."

Some of the largest wheat fields in the United States are in the Texas Panhandle. Perring Bros., of Deaf Smith county, planted and harvested this year 8,000 acres of wheat; Vance Robertson, of Oldham county, 6,000 acres; Thompson & Winder, of Oldham county, 4,500 acres; Roddy Harwell, of Oldham county, 5,000 acres; C. C. Wimberly, of Oldham county, 3,700 acres.

At an average of 20 bushels to the acre, the 8,000 acres of Perring Bros. produced 160,000 bushels of wheat and grossed $320,000 if it sold for $2 a bushel. Much of the lower Panhandle wheat sold for over $2 a bushel.

The Texas harvest contributed to making the national wheat crop the largest on record. According to a forecast by the Department of Agriculture in mid-June, the indicated United States production of all wheat this year amounts to 1,409,800,000 bushels. That figure compares with last year's record crop of 1,155,715,000 bushels and with it is loaded into the trucks from a spout attached to and suspended from the bin of the combine.

C. C. Wimberly of Oldham county, who raised 3700 acres of wheat this year, told the writer that a big combine will cut and thresh 90 acres of wheat a day. A big combine has a cutting width of 20 feet. The smallest combine has a cutting width of 12 feet.

Texas has approximately 1,000 combines which can handle an ordinary wheat crop, but the 1947 wheat crop was no ordinary crop, hence there was a serious shortage of combines, although many of these machines came to Texas from other States to aid in the harvesting. Some combines are owned and operated by men who never plant an acre of wheat. These owners start

To Go Up 19 Miles in Stratosphere

FLIGHT preparations are being made now at Minneapolis for a 19-mile ascension into the stratosphere this summer by Dr. Jean Picard, University of Minnesota physicist and famed air explorer.

The eminent stratosphere voyager will again chase the mysterious cosmic ray. Preparations for the vertical flight are expected to be completed some time this month. The flight will be sponsored by the Navy and will originate at Ottumwa, Iowa.

Navy-imposed secrecy forbids Dr. Picard to divulge many details of his quest, but he pointed out that science is not sure whether cosmic rays are energy rays or corpuscles of matter.

Some scientists believe the rays theoretically contain ten million times the force of an atomic bomb but doubt that they could be harnessed successfully.

"The more we know about the stratosphere," Picard said, "the more we must know. There's more to do now than ten years ago, when less was known."

Picard's goal of 19 miles is 27,000 feet higher than man previously has gone. The present record of 72,395 feet was set in 1935 by Capt. Albert W. Stevens and Orvil A. Anderson, who took off from Rapid City, S. D.

New Employment Peak Set

The Census Bureau reported that civilian employment rose to an all-time high of 58,330,000 in May. This development, along with reports that retail sales are holding up better than generally expected, has considerably brightened the over-all economic picture, officials said.

With civilian employment eclipsing even the war years, the total number of Americans in paying jobs went to 59,800,000, including 1,470,000 in the armed forces.

Farmers to Get More Electrification

The electric power industry will spend $4,000,000,000 within the next few years for construction of new plants, according to Grover C. Neff, of Madison, Wis., president of the Edison Electric Institute.

Neff said that a "period of large scale farm electric line building is rapidly drawing to a close" and that by the end of July 78 per cent of the country's farms would have electricity available. By next year, he said, the percentage would rise to 89.

Britain Using Loan Fast

Britain, drawing on her $3,750,000,000 loan from this country almost one-third faster than originally planned, has used up more than one-half the total credit loan in less than 11 months, treasury records show.

Controls Kept On Sugar Prices

Sugar rationing ended for household consumers effective at midnight of June 11, but controls were kept on sugar prices. Institutional users of sugar, such as hotels and restaurants, also will be exempted from rationing provisions.

All sugar controls are scheduled to end Oct. 31, unless there is further action by Congress.

UN Gets European Aid Plan

A sweeping plan for co-operation toward European recovery has been offered by the United Nations Economic Commission for Europe in a 45-page report to be submitted to U. N. members. The plan coincides with the plan of Secretary of State George C. Marshall for European recovery. It emphasized the need for immediate effective international action on the most pressing problems.

Executive Secretary Gunnar Myrdal of the commission said that cooperation was needed:

1. In reconstruction and development of electric power to modernize European industry.
2. In promoting the production of materials needed for reconstruction.
3. In the satisfactory distribution of scarce commodities.
4. In the exchange of raw materials and capital equipment.

Congress to Quit July 26

Republican leaders have set July 26 as the date for final adjournment of the 80th Congress.

Both the House and Senate plan to complete most of their work by July 19 with a week left for cleaning up loose ends.

Speaker Joe Martin said consideration was being given to adopting an adjournment resolution which would permit majority and minority spokesmen in Congress to reconvene the members this fall if necessary. The President also has the same authority under the Constitution.

Farm Safety Week

President Truman, following a three-year-old precedent, has proclaimed the week of July 20-26 as National Farm Safety Week to stress the urgency for all farm families to adopt safe practices of living and working every day of the year.

Conceived by the National Safety Council and sponsored by that council and the Department of Agriculture in co-operation with other national organizations, National Farm Safety Week has the long-range purpose of cutting the tragic death toll in thousands of needless farm accidents.

World Faces Three Problems

Secretary of Navy James Forrestal said recently the world was faced with it clear that no aggressor can afford again to loose the curse of war."

Plentiful Supply of Minerals

E. L. DeGolyer of Dallas, Texas, told the graduating class of Trinity College in Hartford, Conn., that there is no need for alarm at present over possible exhaustion of the nation's mineral resources. The internationally known geologist and geophysicist declared that the United States should, however, import minerals except coal to the point where further imports would harm its own extractive industries.

"Nations rise and fall with the development of their national resources," DeGolyer told the graduating class. Athens, he pointed out, rose and declined as she developed and then exhausted her Laurian silver mines.

DeGolyer termed the situation "cause for concern," but added that the nation's undiscovered reserves probably exceed the known ones.

Russian Paper Criticizes U. S. Navy

Izvestia, official Soviet newspaper, recently criticized the U. S. Navy for allegedly maintaining a policy "in crying contrast to the decision of the UN general assembly on general reduction of armaments."

In a long article, the official Soviet government publication said the American Navy now is two and one-half times as large as Britain's and still is growing.

The U. S. forces were described as being replenished by new units, including new types such as floating bases for flying bombs, and the scheduled addition of extra-large submarines for transporting troops and planes.

The article, which said "comparatively small losses" in wartime accounted for much of the American fleet strength, also lashed out against U. S. policies in the Pacific.

Russian Bomb Plan Criticized

One of America's ranking atomic experts has informed the United Nations that Soviet Russia's plan for immediate outlawing of the A-bomb and the halting of experiments with it is not feasible.

In a statement to the U. N. Atomic Energy Commission recently, Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, of the California Institute of Technology and University of California, asserted that it would not be profitable "to forbid thinking about atomic explosives."

He told the 12-nation commission, including Soviet Russia:

"I do not think that general staffs can be prevented from brooding about targets to bombard, carriers to carry bombs, fuses or anything like that, and I would hesitate to do more than to implore them not to engage in this activity! I would hesitate to prohibit them from engaging in this activity."

Japan Trade Door Reopened

The international trade door to Japan will be reopened to private business on a limited scale on Aug. 15, the State and War Departments have announced.

This announcement of resumption of international trade with Japan, which on the eve of the Second World War had an import-export value listed at about $1,300,000,000, followed the return of the United States trade mission from conferences with Gen. Douglas MacArthur and his headquarters staff in Tokyo.

First step toward normal trade relations with the defeated Japanese will be accommodations in Japan for 40 private trade representatives to be allocated among the Allied nations on a percentage basis. MacArthur's headquarters reserved the right to pass upon each representative.

While Japan remains in the status of an enemy nation, controls will be maintained over commercial arrangements by agencies set up by the Tokyo headquarters of the supreme command of the Allied powers. Many of these, however, will be relinquished at the earliest possible date.

Publicity Urged On Traffic Accidents

Maj. Gen. Phillip B. Fleming, general chairman of the President's conference on highway safety, urges that newspapers report traffic accidents in full detail to overcome current public indifference to safety appeals.

Fleming, who also is Federal works administrator, said newspapers should publish the detailed findings of police in highway accident cases. He said pictures also would serve to point up the need for highway safety.

"A picture of the skid marks of a smashed automobile," he said, "often conveys a sharper impression of the danger of speeding than the simple statement that the wrecked car had been doing 60 miles an hour."

"Do you notice a kind of lift?"

three problems, the writing of just peace treaties for Germany and Japan and world disarmament.

The secretary asserted that between the writing of just peace treaties and disarmament came the task of "developing and strengthening of the United Nations."

"Once the treaties of peace are written," he said, "the energies of the United States must be directed to the restoration of broken economies and shattered confidence throughout the world. And if the world is to have such confidence, this nation must retain its vitality, its optimism and its capacity for action."

"Fundamental to these is retention by the United States of military power, both immediate and potential, to make

(Copyright, 1947, by the Southwest Magazine Co.)

JULY is not the best weather month, but is the best month for harvesting the grain crop and commemorating the Glorious Fourth of July. As time goes on our July Fourths will have deeper significance. They will emphasize what we fought for at Lexington, at San Juan Hill, at Belleau Wood and at Normandy Beach. In these wars we fought for a principle—for freedom and the American way of life. Uncle Sam will stand for a lot of kicking around by other nations, but when a nation tries to take away his freedom that nation has a bloody fight on its hands.

Stalin should keep this in mind. We will never fight Russia as long as Russia lets our freedom alone. There is room in the world for both nations. If the Russians want a communistic government that's ok with us—they are welcome to it. But if they ever attempt to force communism on America as they did on Hungary then all hell will break loose.

In this July issue of our Magazine Section appears a story on Russia, page 2, written by Brooks Atkinson, which every subscriber should read. Atkinson wrote the story for the New York Times after his return to America from a tour of duty in Moscow. He says in the story that "war is not inevitable with Russia if we show the world our strength is based on true democracy."

Perhaps the most significant statement made by Gen. Marshall since his return from Moscow is that the Russians are deliberately stalling in all peace negotiations. The reason is that Stalin and Molotov are counting on the predicted depression in the United States. This, Moscow believes, will bolster Russia's hand in world peace negotiations, strengthen the communist system in western Europe, and yield converts for communism in the United States. The best way to avoid a depression and fool Stalin and Molotov is for all workers to produce more and more goods, which will lower prices and lessen inflationary trends.

I attended the Texas Press Association's annual convention in Amarillo, June 19-21. On the way I saw mile after mile of ripening wheat fields—a magnificent sight. The upper and lower plains have produced this year the largest wheat crop on record, estimated at well over 100,000,000 bushels. Amarillo, far up in one corner of Northwest Texas, is a modern city of 40,000 population and is a picturesque and prosperous city. Amarillo's Chamber of Commerce tells you:

"Our city is the wholesale and retail center of a vast empire of cattle ranches, grain fields, gas and oil fields."

An aeronautical engineer says it is possible to build planes with a speed limit of 600 miles an hour that will be safe for passenger traffic. Planes are now flying 200 to 300 miles an hour and yet they are not safe for passenger traffic. Recently 156 passengers were killed in three airplane crashes. Man has mastered speed but not safety with speed. I believe more safety devices could be built for airplanes. Is it greed or cold indifference to human life that delays the building of these safety devices?

A fellow named Gist, who is a philosopher and writes for the magazines, says: "If you must worry you should worry about big, not little things." But how are we to know the things we worry about are big or little? Just

"Mistah Joe, I nebah worries. I trusts de Lawd and de Lawd trusts me."

WESLEY FOUNDATIONS

The Texas Methodist Conference has recommended expenditure of $120,000 for Wesley Foundations at seven Texas State colleges and allotment of $69,000 for development of an Anderson county camp site.

CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL PLANNED IN AMARILLO

Officers of the Khiva Temple in Amarillo have announced plans for a $500,000 hospital for crippled children. The board of trustees of Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children authorized the Khiva Temple to raise funds for a hospital similar to the 16 already operated by Shriners in the United States.

TEXANS PRESENTED AT BRITISH COURT

More than 100 Americans, including a Texas couple, were up for presentation to the King and Queen of England at the second royal garden party of the year. Among those in the diplomatic group attending the party were Mr. and Mrs. Jule B. Smith of Nacogdoches and Fort Worth.

KEYS QUAD BECOMES MOTHER

Mrs. Jack Anderson of McKinney, Collin county, one of the famed Keys quadruplets, became a mother last month. Mrs. Anderson, one of the oldest living quads in the United States, gave birth to a 4-pound-5-ounce baby girl. The child is named Sally. The quads, who made Hollis, Okla., their birthplace, famous, graduated from Baylor University in 1938. The four women, all now married, observed their thirty-second birthdays June 4.

BIG FISHING INDUSTRY

The fishing industry at Palacios, Matagorda county, is now in the million dollar a year class. Each shrimp boat brings in an average of two million pounds of shrimp a year. Twelve new boats recently added to the fleets will double the value of the catch in the future. As a result, about 125 new families are moving to the city to be employed either as members of the crews or as workers in the processing and packing plants. A new quick-freeze plant is ready to take care of the increased production.

LOCKER PLANTS INCREASING

Texans are now using the facilities of almost 500 frozen food locker plants in the State. As of November, 1946, there were 403 locker plants in the State, according to a survey made by Roy W. Snyder, meat specialist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service. More recent figures show over 500 plants operating, says Snyder, although a few of that number are meat-curing concerns that cannot be classed as actual food locker plants.

ARMY TO PURCHASE 100 B-36 BOMBERS

An order for 100 B-36's, world's largest bomber, representing the largest portion of Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corporation's record backlog, has been placed by the Army Air Forces. Delivery is scheduled during 1947-49. The giant ships are in full production at Consolidated Vultee's plant in Fort Worth. The six-engine bombers can carry five tons of bombs 10,000 miles. First of the production bombers is scheduled for July delivery. Two experimental ships will be turned over to the Army Air Forces later.

BAPTISTS EXPECT MILLION MEMBERS

Baptist leaders are confident that the membership of 3,303 Texas churches will pass the 1,000,000 mark this year for the first time in the denomination's history. Precedent-setting gains have been reported by the Rev. C. Y. Dossey, associate superintendent of the department of evangelism for the Baptist General Convention of Texas, from sixty-four association simultaneous revival campaigns which this year increased membership by 19,975 to 990,945 members. Reports from nine associations which conducted separate campaigns have not been received. Nor was it possible to estimate the number to be gained in simultaneous campaigns to be held the rest of the year by thirty-one other associations. Most of the other campaigns will be held in July and August.

PLAQUE TO HONOR G. I.

The enlisted men of Texas, "unknown, unhonored and unsung," are going to be recognized for their part in all American wars by a bronze plaque in the Texas Capitol. The House passed a resolution authorizing that a $100 plaque be placed on the southwest corridor wall of the Capitol. "The officers of all wars have been memorialized by picture and bronze plaques in the halls and corridors of the Capitol," the resolution states. But the enlisted men, who "have collectively played a major role in all our nation's wars," have been ignored. The plaque will state: "In memory of the enlisted men of Texas, who are unknown, unhonored and unsung, yet who have always played a determining role in all American wars."

TWICE A GOLD STAR MOTHER

Mrs. T. A. Coppinger, 75, is Callahan county's only Gold Star mother of two wars. Her third child, Bart Coppinger, was killed in France in World War I. Her youngest son, Stanley, died on Saipan in World War II. Widowed 25 years ago, Mrs. Coppinger has since operated the family farm, between Cross Plains and Cottonwood, where she settled with her husband 42 years ago.

THINKS SHE IS 108 YEARS OLD

There is a lively old lady in Winters, Runnels county, who thinks she is 108 years old and is known to have passed her centenary several years ago. According to Mrs. Thomasa Luera's best recollection, she was born in Tom Green county March 16, 1839, but she is not sure, because her Bible was burned three years ago and her eldest child is dead. Laura Kittrell, Winters postmaster who has known the family for years, saw papers verified by an old doctor before the fire in which Mrs. Luera lost her Bible and almost lost her life, establishing her age at more than 100 years. Mrs. Luera is now engaged in a struggle against efforts of her family to keep her from working. She likes to chop wood and she makes quilts, sitting on the ground to sew. She still dances and sings.

METHODISTS ACCEPT FURNISH JOBS

Industries which process wood are the second largest employers of labor among Texas manufacturing industries, according to S. L. Frost of the Texas Forest Service. He said these wood industries employed more than 40,000 people. One of the immediate objectives of the Texas Forest Service is to grow 18,000,000 pine and hardwood seedlings this year to reforest abandoned farm land and cut over pine lands. Some of the seedlings are to be shipped to other sections of Texas for fence post and windbreak plantings.

HANDLESS VET HANDY AT FISHING

Mack Abercrombie, Houston veteran who lost both hands and an arm in World War II, went fishing from a boat in the Gulf of Mexico off Freeport, Brazoria county, and landed a kingfish. The veteran fished with a special rigging arranged by Andy Anderson of the National Movement for Assistance to Disabled Veterans.

INSECT BITE FATAL

The bite of an insect, believed to have been a wasp, was blamed for the death of Charles R. Boud, 45, head of the voice department of Howard Payne College, Brownwood, Brown county. Boud was trimming the hedge in the yard of his home when he was stung on the neck and forehead. He died shortly afterward.

YANKEE BEES CAUSE TROUBLE

A new Yankee invasion—by Northern bees—is causing concern in South Texas. R. A. Bilbrey, president of the Bexar County Beekeepers Association, recently called a meeting to discuss it. "Texas has only two inspectors for the entire State," Bilbrey said, "and they have to spend most of their time checking out-of-state hives en route to and from the North. We want the Yankees to provide their own inspectors."

SERVICES HELD FOR UNKNOWN TEXAS CITY DEAD

Protestant, Roman Catholic and Jewish clergymen conducted a simple, 25-minute burial service in Texas City on Sunday, June 22, for the 63 unknown dead of the April 16 disaster. Three brief services, conducted by a representative of each faith, comprised the entire program. The services were held at a small memorial cemetery four miles north of the scene of the explosions and fires that took the lives of approximately 500 people.

OIL HUNT IN DEEP WATER

Geophysicists are probing beneath the waters of the Gulf of Mexico in the newest phase of search for oil on the continental coast and expect soon to test the deep water for prodigious oil fields which have already been recorded on seismographs. The scientists are members of the exploration staff of Humble Oil & Refining Company. Their flotilla consists of six retired Navy sub-chasers, four shrimp trawlers, two converted Army air-sea rescue boats, and a 77-foot yacht that does double duty as a supply boat and hotel for visitors. The deep water prospecting for oil is a post-war phenomenon. Earlier exploration has been confined to shallower seas.

TEXAS CUTS TRAFFIC TOLL

The downward trend in deaths on the highway continued in Texas in May. The State Department of Public Safety reported that 123 persons were killed during the month compared with 148 in the same month last year. Total deaths since Jan. 1 were 680 compared with 770 in the same period of 1946.

FARM-TO-MARKET ROADS PLANNED

Additional farm-to-market roads totaling 2,500 miles a year can be financed for Texas under a plan announced recently by the State Highway Commission. Laid in a continuous ribbon of asphalt, that much road would reach from San Diego, Calif., to El Paso to Orange to Jacksonville, Fla. In addition, a strip of rural roads the same length is already being or will be built for three years by the department with State and Federal funds. Under the new policy of the Highway Commission, counties desiring more rural thoroughfares than they have been allotted will be asked to furnish the right of way and pay 75 per cent of the actual construction cost. The Highway Department will pay 25 per cent of the construction, plus the cost of engineering and will assume maintenance of all such roads.

LIKE FATHER, LIKE SON—Graduated from the U. S. Military academy in 1919, Brig. Gen. Robert M. Montague, of Fort Bliss, Texas, returns to West Point to see his son, Cadet Robert M. Montague, Jr., graduate as No. 1 cadet.

ROSE FESTIVAL SET

The East Texas Rose Growers Association will stage its Rose Festival Oct. 2 to 5 in Tyler, Smith county. There will be princesses representing their home towns and the most beautiful one will be crowned queen of the festival. Decorated floats will be featured in a parade, each a mass of flowers surmounted by a bevy of pretty girls moving down the city streets.

STATE'S INCOME CONTINUES GROWTH

The State's cash income continued on the increase during May. Comptroller George H. Sheppard said. He reported revenue receipts of $41,440,730 during the month. That brought the total this year to $284,448,678. For the first five months of last year, the income was $228,381,288. Largest producer of income was the 4c-a-gallon gasoline tax. In five months it raised $56,411,855, compared to $49,496,815 in a like period of last year. Deducted from the gross, however, was $5,815,563 paid back to non-highway users.

TEXAS NINTH IN DAIRY PRODUCTS

In the past 20 years Texas has moved from 30th place to ninth place in the value of dairy products in the country. Texas ranks sixth in the production of ice cream, over 30,000,000 gallons being consumed in 1946. Bryan Blalock of Marshall, president of the Texas Dairy Products Institute, says the Texas dairy industry is a $100,000,000 industry.

TEXAS FIFTH IN RECORD U. S. CRIME WAVE

Texas ranks fifth in the present crime wave, which is the largest in this nation's history, Maurice W. Acers, special officer in charge of the San Antonio FBI field office, said last month. Acers made the statement to law enforcement officers of 26 Central and Southwest Texas counties attending an FBI law enforcement conference. "We find in many places a feeling of unrest, readjustment, a something-for-nothing complex on the part of some and a general feeling of dissatisfaction," Acers said. "Many persons frankly admit their uncertainty over the future. They are prone to sit back and wait for things to happen with a calloused and toughened attitude, without expecting too much."

WOOD PROCESSORS LAKE BRIDGEPORT SITE

A 200-acre camp site overlooking Lake Bridgeport, in Wise county, has been accepted by the North Texas Conference of the Methodist Church. The site, given by the citizens of Bridgeport, will be developed as a location for summer assemblies and camps for youth and adults.

TEXAS TRAPEZE TUMBLER RECOVERS FROM FALL

Mary Valentine, 23-year-old aerial artist from San Antonio, has recovered from injuries suffered when she fell about 50 feet from a high trapeze at the Yankee stadium rodeo-circus in New York City. The performer was executing a triple somersault in her trapeze act with her husband, Roy, when she missed her grip and fell to the ground. She landed on the back of her neck.

LICENSE STICKER RULED ILLEGAL

Windshield license stickers will become illegal July 15, a highway department official in the motor vehicle division has announced. The stickers were issued last March and April to some motorists because of a temporary delay in delivery of metal plates. They may now be exchanged for regular tags at the county tax assessor-collector office where they were issued.

COUPLE MARRIED 74 YEARS

Drinking buttermilk and chewing tobacco but abstaining from whiskey and cigarettes are the reasons Thomas Elihu Rose, of the Huron community, Hill county, gives for his long life. Mr. Rose will be 95 on July 25. His wife is 93. The couple have been married 74 years and Mr. Rose says that he has found only two couples in the state, at Waxahachie and Wichita Falls, married longer.

ELLIS COUNTY MAN IS 103 YEARS OLD

William Wesley Bain, Ellis county's oldest citizen, celebrated his 103rd birthday anniversary recently. Bain has been a resident of Ellis county since 1892, when he bought a farm near Trumbull. He was born at Mifflin, Tenn., June 7, 1844. One of Texas' oldest Masons, Bain has been actively identified with the fraternal order since 1871, when he became a member of the Mifflin, Tenn., lodge. He has been a member of the Methodist Church since 1870.

SAFETY LEGISLATION PRAISED

The Texas Safety Association has praised the Fifth Legislature for its enactment of five pieces of traffic safety legislation, including the uniform traffic code. The association, which led a campaign for adoption of the proposals, termed the Legislature which ended June 6 as the most constructive and beneficial in history as far as traffic safety is concerned. "The uniform traffic code brings Texas regulations into conformity with those of 32 States and will aid safe and efficient traffic flow of its almost 3,000,000 drivers and 2,000,000 motor vehicles," said George Clarke, association managing director.

HATCHERY PRODUCTION UP

Commercial Texas hatcheries produced 41,900,000 baby chicks in the first five months of 1947. The output was 1,500,000 higher than a year ago. Hatcheries produced 7,500,000 chicks in May, 11 per cent fewer than the 1941-1945 average, but 50 per cent above the output in May, 1946. Demand for chicks declined in May, but June production was expected to be above the small number hatched in June, 1946. The United States produced 954,304,000 chicks during the first five months of this year, a decrease of 2 per cent from a year ago.

EX-POWS HOLD MEETING

"Barbed wire" veterans of the Texas Prisoner of War Club held a two-day reunion in Fort Worth last month and heard an admonition from General Wainwright to "go home and fight to keep this country prepared." "If we don't keep strong, somebody will surely try to hurt us," General Wainwright warned. "Nobody abhors war more than I do, because I've been through four of them—two little ones and two big ones; and I know the best insurance against another war is to keep strong—keep a trained reserve, a strong air force adequately equipped, an adequate Navy—and see that Congress enacts a universal military training law."

NEW PAROLE LAW SIGNED

A bill rewriting the laws governing adult probation and parole, but having no direct bearing on the pardoning system, has been signed by Governor Jester. The measure provides that probation would be limited to first offenders serving sentences of 10 years or less. Paroles would be limited to those who have served one-third of their sentences. The law creates a special commission to judge eligibility of candidates for appointment to the Board of Pardons. It provides for professional supervision of parolees and probationers, but no provision is made for salaries to pay them.

DRIVER LICENSE EXAMINERS SOUGHT

The Department of Public Safety is undertaking a search for thirty young Texas men who will be recruited as driver license examiners. The jobs will be open Sept. 1. "These are career service positions," Homer Garrison, director of the department, said. He pointed out that recruitment and promotion in the department are based strictly on merit. The men selected will be paid $100 a month plus board and room during a four-week training period and then $208 a month. Applicants must have at least a high school education and be between the ages of 21 and 35.

KING OF ENGLAND LIKES TEXAS GRAPEFRUIT

The King of England, in the words of the master of the household at Buckingham Palace, "very much appreciated" the citrus fruit that was sent him from the Rio Grande Valley of Texas in March. The Mission Chamber of Commerce received, on palace stationery, a formal note from P. W. Legh, master of the household at Buckingham, saying: "Dear sir, I am commanded by the King to acknowledge the very kind gift of 21 cases of fruit and juice, which is very much appreciated." The gifts to King George and Queen Elizabeth were sent by the Dean Produce Company of Mission, the Bayview Citrus Association at San Benito and the G. O. McDaniel Canning Company at Edcouch.

a 10-year average of 843,692,000 bushels.

One important effect of a crop so large is that the United States will be able to continue heavy shipments of wheat to food-short areas abroad for another 12 months. Uncle Sam can continue to help feed hungry Europeans.

DID YOU KNOW THAT?

The average human being has eight times as much bone as he has brain in his body.

In the past 250 years major earthquakes have occurred throughout the world at the rate of one every ten years; they have killed a total of about 800,000 people.

Fingernails grow from the base at the average rate of about an eighth of an inch a month; toenails about an eighth of an inch in four months.

About one-fifth of us were not born in the State in which we now reside. This percentage also applied 50 years ago and 100 years ago.

There are 100 post offices in the United States whose names begin with Z. The oddest is Zigzag, Oregon.

A LITTLE FUN Jokes to Make You Laugh

Hot Spot

One of the Mexican show places visited by President Truman was the fiery Parícutin volcano. As he viewed it with keen interest, President Aleman asked what he thought of it. "It's quite a volcano," replied Truman, "but it's nothing compared to the one I'm sitting on in Washington."

Monkey Business

Tallulah Bankhead tells about a pet monkey her uncle, Colonel Henry M. Bankhead, tried to housebreak when he was in the Philippines. Whenever the monkey misbehaved, Colonel Bankhead slapped its seat and immediately tossed it out of the ground-floor window to the yard outside. The monkey finally got the idea. Thereafter, it would misbehave, then slap its own seat and leap through the window.

Tough Enough

A ship called at a cannibal isle and the captain was surprised to see the missionary come out in a canoe.

"How on earth did you ever keep them from eating you?"

"It was easy. You see, I have a cork leg. As soon as I landed, I pulled off my trousers, cut off a slice of the cork leg and handed it to the chief. He decided I wasn't worth cooking."

Human Beings Are People

A traveler nearing a great city paused at the outskirts to ask a question of a venerable man seated by the wayside. "What are the people like in the city?" he inquired.

"How were the people where you came from?" returned the old man.

"A terrible lot," the traveler responded. "Mean, rapacious, untrustworthy, detestable in all respects."

"Ah," said the sage, "you will find them the same in the city ahead."

Scarcely was the first traveler gone when another traveler appeared. He, too, inquired about the people in the city before him. Again, the old one asked about the people in the place the traveler had left.

"They were fine people, honest, upright, industrious, and generous to a fault. I was sorry to leave them," declared the second traveler.

"So you will find them in the city ahead," again responded the venerable old man.

Payment in Kind

Tommy Larkin is a newspaper boy, according to a story by Dr. George W. Crane. Tommy, 14 years old, carries a route and does his own collecting. This is what is called the "small-merchant" plan, and is considered a good way to teach boys business methods.

"I've come to collect the 25 cents for the paper," remarked Tommy one morning as a customer, Samuel Murkins, came to the door.

"Fine," smiled Mr. Murkins as he took five nickels out of his pocket. Then, without a word, he threw one nickel out upon the front lawn. He tossed the second nickel on top of the porch, the third one under the steps, and the fourth behind the bushes. The fifth nickel he handed directly to the newsboy.

Tommy looked astounded, and exclaimed, "What did you do that for?"

"Well, Tommy," Mr. Murkins explained, "that's where I find the papers you deliver to me."

And thereafter Mr. Murkins' paper was always deposited squarely in front of the door—where Tommy Larkin expected to collect his money.

This Generation

A small boy, looking very solemn, went in search of his mother and found her in the kitchen.

"Mother," he said, "you know that blue vase that's been handed down through the generations? ... Well, this generation just dropped it."

One Way to Say It

Life insurance companies often come across unique evasions on the forms applicants fill out. One man, in the space asking the cause of parental death, wrote, "Father was taking part in a public function and the platform gave way, ending his life." Subsequent investigation disclosed that his father had been hanged for cattle rustling.

Golden Wedding

The old couple had just celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. Now all the guests were gone, and they sat by the open fireplace with her head on his shoulder, and reminisced.

"Mary," he said tenderly, "you're still my sweetheart. In fact I've never had another because I never found anyone as sweet and beautiful as you."

"Henry," she replied, "you're as big a liar as ever, and I believe you just the same."

Dad Got There First

A housewife, running into an after-Christmas money shortage, decided to borrow a few dollars from baby's piggy bank until she received her next weekly allowance.

Guiltily, she opened the bank during her husband's absence. Inside she found only a white slip of paper which read: "IOU $5.00. Daddy."

Bet On the Rabbit

We like the device of the new Philadelphia agency, Martin and Andrews, to convey that they'll do their darnedest because their survival depends on it. They picture a hound chasing a rabbit and under the picture they explained: "The hound runs for his lunch ... the rabbit runs for his life. Bet on the rabbit!"

Couldn't Be Cured

This has to do with a man who loved to deliver, in public, an oration on Patrick Henry. He spoke so often that everyone had heard his speech several times and all were heartily tired of it.

They finally decided to cure him for once and for all, and arranged for a meeting with a group of farmers from the area. The night before the meeting they went to the Patrick Henry orator and told him that at the last minute their speaker from the Agricultural College had been unable to come and asked if he would take his place. As always, the local speaker was happy to accommodate.

"However," the committee spokesman continued, "there is just one hitch. We have invited the farmers in to hear a talk on a certain subject and they are coming for that, so you must speak on that subject lest they be disappointed." The speaker said that he would do so and asked the subject. The topic, said the committee, was "Colic In Mules." The local speaker said he would do the best he could.

The next night at the meeting, everyone was out to see what he would say. He got to his feet and announced the subject, "Colic In Mules," and began: "Colic in mules is caused by gas in the alimentary canal of the mule, which rushes back and forth saying: 'Give me liberty or give me death!'"

Pullorum Disease in Poultry

By A. F. ROLF

(Condensed from American Feed and Grain Dealer)

Pullorum disease may be transmitted through a portion of the eggs laid by carrier hens so that some chicks may already be infected when hatched. The presence of one or more infected chicks in the incubator is likely to result in the transmission of the disease to some of the healthy chicks. The occurrence of pullorum disease in a brood of chicks does not, however, necessarily indicate that the chicks were infected when purchased.

All chicks are readily susceptible to infection, and particularly so during the first few days of their life. Perfectly clean, healthy chicks may acquire pullorum disease from ground, buildings, brooders, water and feed containers, or other equipment or material which has been contaminated by diseased stock. Such contamination may originate from diseased individuals currently present in the flock or from infected stock, either chicks or adults, which had at some previous time contaminated such equipment or material. Not infrequently, this contamination may have originated in either chicks or hens which the poultry raiser had no idea were pullorum carriers.

Under ideal conditions of feeding, care and management, it is possible that one may have a few chicks in a flock that were infected when hatched, or to grow chicks in previously contaminated quarters, and yet, experience a mortality so low that the presence of pullorum disease may not even be suspected. On the other hand, if the vitality of such chicks is lowered by poor feeding, by chilling or overheating, or by other mismanagement, the pullorum may "flare up" and result in high mortality.

There are four steps which are equally important safeguards against the dangers of pullorum disease:

(1) Do not take chances on chicks from breeding flocks in which pullorum infection has not been either eliminated, or at least materially reduced, by a proper testing program.

(2) Do not subject chicks to the chances of infection from currently diseased chicks or hens kept on the same premises, or to the hazards of previously contaminated brooders, equipment or surroundings, that have not been thoroughly cleaned of all such contamination;

(3) Avoid the detrimental effects that will most certainly result from inefficient care and management practices which lower vitality;

(4) And, finally, use only feeds which have been efficiently designed to supply the nutrient factors which are essential not only to growth and development but which also contribute so much to such disease resistance as accompanies the high degree of vitality normally found in a really well-nourished chick.

There is no known cure for pullorum disease. The elimination of infected birds from breeding flocks offers the most promising means yet known for pullorum control. Adult pullorum disease carriers cannot be distinguished by outward appearance; the only practical means for their detection is a "blood test" which, by a visible reaction, will detect infected birds with a sufficient degree of accuracy to be of real value.

Owners of breeding flocks who desire more detailed information on such blood testing programs should write either to the secretary of their State poultry improvement association; to the poultry department of their State agricultural college; to their State department of agriculture; or, if selling eggs to a hatchery, consult their hatchery operator.

Communists

has 70,000; India, 63,000, and Korea, 50,000. The rest are scattered in Siam, Malaya, Indochina, and Burma.

Influence and vote-swinging ability wielded by communists—in Europe, at least—far exceeds their weight in numbers. The most striking example of this, of course, is Russia. There a communist party membership of 6,000,000 rules with an iron hand a nation of nearly 200,000,000 population.

Seven other countries of Europe in the Soviet sphere of influence are dominated by the communist party. In at least two other nations—Finland and Austria—communists hold a balance-of-power position. And in three great nations, Germany, France and Italy, the party constitutes a major factor.

Voting Strength Heavy

Communist voting strength in Europe has ranged as high as eight times the party's membership total. The average has been almost two and one-half to one. In 12 European nations, excluding Russia, communist tickets in recent elections rolled up 19,682,658 votes. Communist party membership in the same countries totals 8,092,000.

Highest ratio of votes to membership was in The Netherlands, where it registered eight to one. In Germany it was four to one; in France, three to one, and in Italy, better than two to one.

Among the 12 nations, communist voting strength ranged from a high in Bulgaria of 54 per cent of the total electorate to a low in Sweden zone of nine per cent. In the Soviet zone of Germany the merger of communists and socialists into the S. E. D. party polled 44 per cent of the total vote.

Russia

danger. Continued association within the United Nations may avert war indefinitely. Unless the Soviets withdraw from the only world organization, both of us will have a wholesome opportunity to test each other's strength and sincerity, and we may also find out whether their political and economic system or ours is going to meet the needs of the world or whether various systems like the American, the Russian, the English, the Swedish and others can coexist. Meager as the accomplishments of the United Nations have been, the American and Soviet statesmen have continued to meet in public there to discuss vital problems and have dealt with each other on more subjects than before or during the war.

Since the stakes are higher, it is difficult to understand why the Soviets so recklessly endanger the security of the United Nations by sabotaging so much of its vital business. The stakes are the peace of the world. The awful menace that hangs over the world, despite basic good intentions, is the atomic bomb.

We have proposed to turn the bomb over to international control on terms that most nations regard as rational, since we do not want the exclusive responsibility of controlling such a frightful weapon. But the Soviet Union has specifically blocked the plan for international control of atomic energy, which shows either a surprising trust in our peaceful intentions, a reckless disregard of realities or surprising progress in the manufacture of the bomb. In this respect they risk more than we do, unless they can make the bomb, which is highly unlikely. Apart from the bomb, the Soviet Union has blocked most of the activities of the United Nations by a paralyzing use of the veto and by boycotting most of the United Nations' subordinate activities, on which the world is counting for progress and security. The Soviet delegation does not participate in the World Bank, the International Monetary Fund, UNESCO, the International Labor Organization, Food and Agricultural Organization, relief, Civil Aeronautical Organizations and the International Trade Organization. Nothing could go much further toward the effective creation of two hostile worlds than the negative attitude of the Soviet Union toward the United Nations.

Curiously enough, this does not correspond to the attitude of the Government toward the United Nations in Russian internal propaganda. For the United Nations has been systematically described to the Russian people as a world organization. (Continued on Page 7, column 4)

Texas Farm News

Total amount of farm fertilizers sold to Texas farmers and ranchers in 1945-46 was 305,510 tons, as compared with 217,760 in 1944-45.

The tremendous production of livestock by American farmers and ranchers in the cattle country is clearly revealed in figures recently compiled by the USDA covering arrivals at 66 terminal markets in the United States. These figures show that cattle and calf receipts for the first four months of 1947 were more than 1,000,000 larger than in the first four months of 1946. Swine receipts were slightly larger, but sheep receipts were down sharply.

Five check points that are important to Texas dairy farmers during the summer are listed by the Extension dairy husbandmen of Texas A. and M. College. A check-up on the following items will help boost production: Water supply—cows need more water this time of year. Sour milk—always a problem in the late spring and summer months; souring can be stopped by producing clean milk and cooling it to 55 degrees Fahrenheit within two hours after milking. Horn flies—pests that occupy a cow's time when she should be producing milk; horn flies can be controlled by spraying back, sides, legs and bellies with one pound of 50 per cent wettable DDT powder in 25 gallons of water. Good, green grass—a cheap feed that always brings a rise in milk production and cuts out many herd health problems. Kind treatment—a necessity in the management of dairy cows throughout the year; rough treatment and high production are seldom found together on a dairy farm.

Travis county farmers are beginning to see some results of the pasture improvement work they have been doing. Buffalo grass has been seeded on the high and sloping lands of the county, and Bermuda grass is now growing on much of the low, flat lands, says Travis County Agricultural Agent Thomas H. Royder. Many of the farmers will add blue stem, grama, rescue, Italian rye, and dallis grasses, as well as white dutch, hubam or burr clovers for winter and early spring grazing.

More than 1,000,000 acres of Texas land worn out for agricultural purposes should be planted in pine trees, according to Texas Foresters Association.

Texas accounted for 49 of the top 100 cotton producing counties of the nation in 1944, according to a survey issued by the Census Bureau. Leading counties were judged on a basis of differences in area, crop average and acreage in cotton. The 49 counties in Texas reported a total of 4,224,814 acres in cotton in 1944, totaling 64 per cent of the State's total and 22 per cent of the national total. All over the nation, 18,961,891 acres of land were planted to cotton.

Officials of the Purebred Sheep Breeders Association of Texas advise that arrangements have been completed with officials of the State Fair of Dallas for a sale of some excellent sheep on October 17. Sales committeemen say that an outstanding number of seven different breeds of sheep will be included in the sale offering.

The only turkey egg-laying test in the world ended May 31 at John Tarleton Agricultural College, Stephenville, with a pen of broad breasted bronze turkeys from the Lee and Smith Ranch of Midlothian, Ellis county, leading in egg production, according to W. Doyle Graves, test superintendent. The pen of 10 young hens laid 869 eggs during the five months of the test.

A new breed of cattle, big, white and tickproof, is being developed by two South Texas cattlemen, Fred Turner and Earl Thomas, of Weslaco, Hidalgo county. The breed, a cross between the Brahman and Charolais, has all the best characteristics of each, Turner said. When a registry book for the breed, called Charbray, is set up within the next two years the breed will become the second ever developed in this country. Charbrays are three-fourths Charolais, the French work-beef-and-milk breed, and one-fourth Brahman.

Evidencing the mass production methods of grain sorghum output in this area, figures recently released by the census bureau of the Department of Commerce show that nine of the ten top ranking sorghum producing counties in Texas are on the South Plains. No. 1 county in the State was Lamb, which grew 5,614,123 bushels of grain sorghum. The only county off the South Plains to break into the first ten was Nueces, which raised 2,493,000 bushels and ranked ninth. Other South Plains counties and their rankings were Terry, second, 5,149,219 bushels; Lynn, third, 4,685,052 bushels; Lubbock, fourth, 4,462,905 bushels; Bailey, fifth, 4,071,344 bushels; Hockley, sixth, 3,827,482 bushels; Dawson, seventh, 3,125,906 bushels; Farmer, eighth, 2,919,001 bushels; and Castro, tenth, 2,464,483 bushels.

Jaicie Corona Starlight, a seven-year-old Holstein cow, is the first of her breed in Texas to produce as much as 1,000 pounds of butterfat in a year's time.

The Holstein Friesian Association has informed Extension dairymen of Texas A. and M. College that the cow, now on the Neale farm near Waco, McLennan county, produced 27,408 pounds of milk and 1,087.3 pounds of butterfat in 365 days, on three-times-a-day milking. The new record makes Starlight the highest producer in Texas, and second highest producer of all breeds in the State. Texas' butterfat champion is Welcome Volunteer Sable, a five-year-old Jersey owned by J. Chester Elliff, of Tulia, Swisher county.

What is thought to be the highest priced Polled Hereford steer ever to sell in the United States was bred by Jack Martin and S. M. Martin, of Morgan, Bosque county, backers of the Bosque County Polled Hereford Show and prominent breeders in that area. The steer was the champion fat steer over all breeds at the Birmingham, Ala., 1947 Fat Stock Show and sold for $5.05 a pound to Charles R. Rew, owner of the Alabama Manufacturing Company, makers of churns. The steer was fed by J. Lee Alley and Lawrence Lee Alley of Midway, Ala. Lee Alley is Sleeping sickness cases among horses of the United States were set at 2,805 for 1946 by the Bureau of Animal Industry. This is the lowest number of cases of infectious equine encephalomyelitis during the preceding 12 years. The average mortality was somewhat higher, 34 per cent, than in recent years. The authorities say about 400,000 animals were vaccinated with two doses each in 1946, and 26 animals were said to have taken the disease even after vaccination.

There are no known cases of hoof-and-mouth disease among Mexican cattle within 350 miles of the Texas border and not a single cow has been caught along the Rio Grande since the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry and the U. S. Customs Patrol began checking the border after discovery of the disease in Mexico months ago. That was the report made recently by Dr. Nicholas E. Dutro of Brownsville, new supervisor of the Cameron, Hidalgo and Starr counties district of the bureau's hoof-and-mouth patrol program. The bureau and the customs patrol have seized five hogs, a few horses and mules but no stray cattle, Dutro declared.

Fields & Johnson, San Angelo sheep dealers, have set July 25 as the date for their 10th annual Corriedale sale and August 15 for their 9th annual Suffolk sale. Six hundred blackfaces—450 rams and 150 ewes—are to be offered in the Suffolk sale.

LORD OF THE JUNGLE—THE ANT

(Condensed from Magazine Digest)

When big game hunters get together, sooner or later their talk is about the world's most dangerous animal. Rarely is there any agreement, except that one of the five most dangerous animals is: the lion, the elephant, the buffalo, the rhinoceros or the leopard.

"Actually," says John Compton, jungle explorer, "the world's most dangerous animal is, without any doubt or question, the driver ant."

Mr. Compton made the ant's acquaintance twice before he realized he was dealing with so formidable a foe. The third time he barely escaped with his life.

On the first occasion it was Africa's rainy season and Compton, while stalking big game, stepped across a thin column of ants. They were on the march, five or six abreast, with their route lined on either side by larger, stationary ants, and neither the head nor the tail of the column could be seen.

Compton, fascinated, stopped to watch them. Suddenly there was a sharp pain in one of his legs, as if a red-hot needle had been stuck into it for about half an inch. "I looked down and saw an ant fastened on my bare leg just above where my sock turned down over my boot," he said. "I tried to brush it off, but it remained fast and when I took hold of it and pulled hard, the body came off but not the head and pincers. I was annoyed. But the idea that it was advisable to get out of the vicinity of these insects never occurred to me. I was by now intrigued by the orderliness of the marchers and their guards. I then noticed a tiny trickle, like a rivulet from a main stream, coming toward me, and it was a dozen of the larger ants that began running up my boots. I tried to retreat, to sweep them off, but they dug themselves in with a firm hold from which there is no withdrawing."

In a couple of days he had forgotten all about the incident, and soon made the mistake of stepping right in the middle of another marching column of driver ants. Immediately a swarm of reddish-brown insects poured over his boots and socks, traveling upwards. He ran, of course, as soon as he saw them. But every one of the attackers knew his business, and about 50 pairs of pincers bit into the man's flesh. First, he felt the individual pricks in their respective places; then the pricks became more and more painful until they merged quarter of an inch long. He looks harmless, but together with his military colleagues, it is his job to tear flesh from living prey. The third member of the army is a tiny little creature who acts as porter, a carrier of burdens such as eggs and larvae.

The fourth member of the army is a male, a magnificent creature two inches long and with great eyes—the only one of his family to possess eyes. The other ants are blind and find their way by radar-like antennae. But, like so many masculine insects, the male ants are completely harmless.

Lastly comes the queen (only one to an army). She is huge, blind, and helpless and her sole function is to lay eggs. When the army is on the march she is carried, or dragged, by the workers. The army settles down for only eight or nine days at a time, then it embarks again on its ceaseless and carnivorous journeys.

When they enter a house, the driver ants go about their work of massacre in an orderly and remorseless manner. They move into the house silently, and each ant takes its place. When a helpless or inert victim, such as a sleeping man, is encountered, the ants cover him without doing him the slightest harm. Then all attack at once, and each tries to tear out a piece of flesh, doubling itself up as it strains and tugs. Several men who have undergone this experience and managed to escape alive, speak about it with indescribable horror.

But Compton himself saw no sign of ants one night when he sought shelter in an abandoned hut. He tethered his horse, took a duiker (an African antelope) which he had shot earlier and hung it up outside on the veranda. Then he lay down on the bed—lengths of cut bark stretched between poles a foot or two above the ground—and went to sleep.

He was awakened by the restless pawing of his horse, but soon went back to sleep. Then a terrified rat fell from the rafters onto his face and scrambled away. Compton got up, lit a candle. Three more rats fled out of the open door.

Then came a shrill scream from his horse outside, a violent stomping of feet, the sharp click of a broken rein and sound of hoofs galloping away.

This was serious, for a man in the heart of Rhodesia without a horse is in danger of losing his life. Compton thought that a lion or leopard must have come too close to the hut and frightened the horse. Putting on his boots and grabbing his gun, he went outside and, after running for some distance, was unable to catch up with his horse. He returned angrily toward the hut. About a hundred yards away he stopped, terrified at what he saw.

In the pale moonlight the ground was covered with a thick, moving mass of ants! "A faint sound came from these packed millions of ants. It was a hissing sound like that of a rattlesnake ready to strike. I think it was the most menacing sound I ever heard. I withdrew slowly and quietly," Compton said. He waited out the night on a hillock near a river. When morning came he searched for his horse and found that the faithful animal was grazing in an open field nearby. He led the horse back, cautiously approaching the hut. All the ants were gone. Only the antelope's skeleton remained. The ants had eaten the antelope that Compton killed the previous day. (Continued top next column)

Also skeleton remains of mice and rats were piled up in corners of the house—all victims of the hungry ants.

Compton sat down and mopped the sweat from his brow. He was grateful to the rat that had tumbled from the rafters on his face while he slept and thus awakened him. The rat had saved his life.

Russia

tion that grew logically out of the war collaboration of the Big Three, which was very popular in Russia. To the Russian people the United Nations has been portrayed as a progressive step toward world peace.

Although the Soviet Government is a dictatorship, it does take public opinion into consideration, and its attitudes are sometimes apparent in what it prints in the Russian newspapers and says over the Russian radio. The expression of public opinion is narrowly confined and little of it filters through to the newspapers or magazines, or at any rate, on fundamental policy, which is the Politburo's exclusive province. But the Communist party and the security police are in positions to sample public opinion through the innumerable associations they have with the workers and peasants; and it seems certain that ultimately the Kremlin receives a digest of what the people are saying. Accordingly, the Government would not make any radical decision, like going to war or withdrawing from the United Nations, without first conditioning public opinion by propaganda.

If the Soviet Union decided now to withdraw from the United Nations, a great sigh of despair would sweep over the Soviet Union. In present circumstances, that would be an unpopular decision and might endanger the security of the Government. But the Soviet Government could very swiftly change that attitude by use of its powerful and ingenious propaganda machine.

The current violent attacks on the integrity of the United States might be construed as deliberate action by the Government in that direction, although violent talk is normal in the Russian press. Master of propaganda, the Government controls public opinion, and it can persuade the people that the United States, in both the United Nations and the Foreign Ministers Council, is threatening the security of the Soviet Union and plotting world hegemony by sinister means. Since the Russians have a passionate love of their own country, at least equivalent to our love for America, that propaganda line would appeal to a vital national emotion, help to unify the people and strengthen their resistance. In short, the Soviet Government could quickly reverse itself about the United Nations with at least a large measure of public opinion at home.

As long as the Soviet delegation remains in the United Nations the hope for world peace also remains and there is still a margin of time in which some of the world's worst crises can be solved. But there is reason to believe that the Soviet Government never really shared America's buoyant enthusiasm for the United Nations as outlined at Dumbarton Oaks and San Francisco. Although the United Nations makes a good speaker's platform from which the Soviet Government can address the world, the Soviet Government cannot accomplish much else against such consistent opposition. For neither its ideas nor its attitudes are popular. Although the Soviets like to have friends abroad they have lost friends as a result of their slow, artful and unyielding procedures. There are circumstances in which the Soviet Government might consider further participation in the United Nations a political liability.

No one except the leaders of the Communist party knows the extent of Soviet planning for the world revolution. Although the Comintern was publicly disbanded in 1943, the foreign Communist parties continue as before with propaganda and conspiracy. As in the case of conspiracies in general, there is little concrete evidence to go on, and the public statements of the leaders are designed for tactical effectiveness rather than foreign enlightenment. It does not really change the situation when Stalin makes a benevolent speech or Molotov makes a fighting one, for the methods and objectives of doctrinaire Communists are always the same.

Whatever the source of the conspiratorial technique may be, the organization of the Soviet dictatorship is not by nature geared to collaborate with the rest of the world. Ample selections of cottons are available this year for summer wardrobes. For the first time since before the war, the old-time favorites are to be found in full supply: chambray, gingham, poplin, pique, broadcloth, seersuckers, swisses, and the lovely sheers like organdy, net, marquisette, thin voiles, and even mulls, lawn, and muslins. The average woman, still remembering the lean supplies of the war years, has gone all-out for these. And mothers, keenly realizing the ease with which this well-wearing material goes through water and soap suds, are buying cottons for all occasions.

This typical American material makes play clothes, casual clothes, evening fashions and the smartest of town costumes. This is the year that famous designers seem to have discovered anew the beauty of cotton. Suits, dresses and jacket ensembles are all inspired by the crisp, fresh appeal of the new cottons. Famous mills are turning out specially woven and dyed cottons, in blazing color combinations, stripes, checks, plaids and fanciful prints. Dark street shades like cypress green, copper, and deep purple are used for suit costumes. Intriguing checks, plaids, or stripes make two-piece suits with all the superlative design and detail usually reserved for custom-designed clothes.

White and colored pique makes dashing play clothes and fine dress-up gowns. Dark colored pique in such shades as copper, dull green, carbon blue, duobonnet, navy and black is used with white for one-piece dresses. Chambray comes back in charming pastels as well as street colors of steel gray, tobacco brown, and dark green striped in white, or else as a solid color. These are ideal for sweet dresses and suits.

Boits and bolts of dotted swiss are being used by home dressmakers for summer cool suits and dresses. Novelty cottons of airy sheerness compete with the dotted swisses, as do the frail looking but surprisingly long wearing organdies and marqanzas. Eyelet embroidered cotton, the veteran standby during the war years, is still decorative and cool and is used in white pastels and dark street colors for wilting weather fashions.

Gingham, another fatality of the war, has returned in a cheerful rash of white on vividly colored checks, in authentic Scotch plaids, and in striped materials with the stripe a thin cool chalk line of white. Seersucker is approved and sponsored by our smartest American designers. The famous Hope Skillman cottons, instantly recognized by unusual pattern designs and color combination, are also featured by top-flight designers for the smartest and smoothest of summer clothes. Nothing is overlooked—some of the loveliest of summer weddings are all cotton from wedding

A question always of importance to a prospective mother or father is "What shall we name baby?" Various considerations influence their decision. But chief among them should be what a name can do to the child.

It is an old story what names traditionally given girls do to boys, and whatever consideration prompts a parent to give a little boy a girl's name should be waived. Family names given little girls do not carry with them the same stigma as feminine names given boys.

Be wary of names that can easily be coined into unfortunate nicknames. These often stay with the individual a whole lifetime, much to his displeasure and discomfort.

CHOOSE YOUR CHILD'S NAME WITH CARE

fort. It is all right for a mother to name her child for an admired person in public life unless the name she chooses is in exceptionally bad taste and unwarranted.

From the point of view of etiquette, it is correct to name a new baby the same as an older brother who died if the parents wish to do so. This is done frequently when the older child bore the name of the father and it is the family's wish to have the name perpetuated.

If you wish to name your child for a friend, consult the friend first and find out how he or she feels toward having a namesake. "Surprise namings" are sprung only on members of the family and then only with caution.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Don't cut—sew! If boys' slacks are too long, take a tuck under the hem of the trouser legs. Between shrinkage in laundering and summer growth of the boy, said tuck is due to come out before the summer is over.

HELICOPTER POWERED FROM GROUND

A hovering helicopter, to be used as a radio signaling and observation station half a mile above the earth, was developed in Germany late in the war, the U. S. government now reveals. It was equipped with radio antenna, and powered, both for lift and signaling, through cables from portable ground generators.

The device was never used in warfare, but had been air-tested several times before the close of the war. It had been successfully flown for 30 minutes at about 2,500 feet, and several times at lower altitudes.

Four trucks were used to transport the entire apparatus. One carried the helicopter itself, three carried electric generators and

BUILDING TOTAL FOR 6 MONTHS $97,943.00

FIRST HALF OF YEAR SEES CONSTRUCTION

Building permits in Cameron issued since January 1 and up to July 1 total $97,943.00 it was disclosed today by W. H. Stafford, City Secretary and Treasurer.

Mr. Stafford compiled this record of the first six months on construction in Cameron at the request of the Daily Herald that the information might be brought to the readers.

In the main the building total accounts for construction of homes and repairs but not a few business buildings are included in the permits. The city is still facing an acute housing shortage and also there is a shortage of business space.

The City Council under Mayor McCullin instituted this permit system by enacting an ordinance requiring application and approval of construction. The state has had a two fold benefit, giving the city tax department a better index on property values in the future and at the same time an accurate gauge of the progress of the city.

Mr. Stafford has these records in excellent shape like all other details of his offices and the monthly reports have made good and interesting reading.

VALTER WHITE ISSUES STATEMENT ON TAXES

Valter White, Assessor and Collector of Taxes for Milam county, requested publication of a preliminary statement on the delinquent tax contract and notices, Saturday, and said he would cause to be published in all the county papers next week a complete defense of his position.

Mr. White said: "On April 18 the Commissioners Court entered into a contract with Chas. C. Smith, Jr., to collect delinquent taxes at a commission of 15 per cent. During the previous year the court also had employed Mr. Walker to collect delinquent taxes. That was before I went in office. Mr. Smith in some way has made the mistake of mailing out notices from the record compiled by Mr. Walker and in so doing has mailed notices to tax payers who have already paid their taxes.

"In as much as my name is used to certify to the records I am having a hard time explaining to people who have paid their taxes why they are now being billed for them.

"I do not wish to create any misunderstanding about this but I do feel that it should be known that I am in no way responsible for these errors. Many have shown me their receipts and they seem to feel that I am responsible.

"I am going to publish a statement next week in all papers explaining this mixup. Again let me repeat that notices have been mailed to many who have already paid their delinquent taxes and paid them before I came into office. Please do not hold me responsible."

Hanover Tom Cat Is Good Papa; Is Busy Taking Care Kittens

Here's something new under the sun.

Down at Hanover on the F. B. Fisher farm lives Gray Boy, a tom cat who is filled with motherly instincts and has already raised two kittens.

Mr. Fisher was in town Saturday and related the story of the cat. Several months ago the family obtained a kitten and Gray Boy took over. Mr. Fisher says the cat mothered the kitten as much as a female cat could have done, fed the young cat and otherwise made himself responsible for its raising.

Some time ago the kitten was killed by an automobile. Gray Boy was visibly affected and it was not long until he brought in a kitten which he is now feeding and taking care of. The kitten has been named Little Boy by the family.

HEARING DATE IS SET ON T&NO APPLICATION

Hearing on the application of the Texas & New Orleans Railroad for discontinuance of passenger train service between Waco and Yoakum has been set for July 24 in Rockdale.

The time for the meeting is 10:30 a. m. in the city hall in Rockdale. The Railroad Commission set the hearing in Rockdale because it is centrally located on the lines.

The Texas & New Orleans railroad is a part of the Southern Pacific System. The company alleges it is losing some $30,000 a year on the operation of passenger train service over the line from Waco to Yoakum.

Indications were that a number of delegations will be on hand from the cities along the line to protest the application. The rail line when first built was the San Antonio & Arkansas Pass. Later the Southern Pacific and now the Texas & New Orleans.

Mrs. Cass Walden of Houston is spending this week with relatives in Cameron.

WIDOW OF SLAIN MAN CHARGED WITH MURDER

Mrs. McLane was released on $3,000 bond.

McLane was reared in Cameron. He left his home city about 25 years ago and at one time was with the postal service in Houston. Shortly after his death in Tyler on April 21 the body was exhumed after an investigation had been instituted by officers.

12 BILLION FARM INCOME COTTON IS GOOD HERE

FLYING DISK SEEN OVER CAMERON

FARM PRODUCTS ARE UP FORTY PER CENT

American farmers during the first half of 1947 had an income in excess of 12 billion dollars as compared with nine billion for the same period in 1936.

The United States Department of Agriculture released figures early Wednesday showing that the American farmer is enjoying prosperity as never before.

There was a note of gravity however in the figures. For the remainder of the year the Department predicts that some declines will come. Corn was selling at an all time high.

The only farm produce that was not up with the leading items was milk, butter and eggs. Poultry prices were up only 20 per cent but grains had led the market advance up to 40 per cent and over. The average increase over last year in the value of farm products was 40 per cent.

Removal of price controls through support prices and floors on major farm commodities, sent these crops spiraling along with the prices of manufactured goods.

The nation's wheat crop would be the largest and bring more money than any in history. The same could be said about corn only the production will be cut by planting shortages in the corn belt.

Local farms in Milam county had the additional advantage because of a major produce crop. Tomatoes had brought in a rich harvest, some small planters having reported as much as $3000 income from their tomatoes alone.

On the whole the outlook was bright for buying power in the farm sections though money on deposits in banks generally was lower but this is attributed to peak wartime earnings having been curtailed.

Haley Store Opens July With Bang Up Reduction Sale

Haley's store in Cameron today brings a merchandising message to the people that is a bang up sales and saving event.

Mr. Haley has been at the store in person for several days getting merchandise in order and applying the deepest cut yet made in prices to every department of the store.

The Daily Herald is carrying this good news in a full page ad today. Clearance of merchandise sales at this store set a record for business increase in late June.

The Haley store not only includes present stocks in the radical mark down of prices but also new goods are included, passing along the advantages of new low price trends.

FAVORABLE WEATHER IS BOOSTING LOCAL CROP

Milam county's cotton crop was showing good progress with the continued hot weather, a survey shows.

Some planters are predicting that a bale to the acre yield may be realized if no rain falls within the next week. Cotton is a dry weather crop and if seasonal temperatures are had at certain stages the crop is apt to make within 10 to 15 days.

The Milam county acreage is small compared to the crop in previous years. In 1920 the county produced 80,000 bales.

The United States faces the prospect of the smallest supply of cotton in many years. Department of Agriculture figures released Tuesday indicate the production this year will be nearly 2 million bales short of requirements. There is an increase of 17 per cent in acreage over last year but 10 per cent below the government's recommended goal.

The government made no production forecasts but the estimates are some 10 million bales this year. The first crop forecast will be made on August 8.

"I will be back in Cameron Sunday evening."

YOUNG PEOPLE HAVE CLOSE CALL SATURDAY

Four young people were hospitalized Saturday night because of injuries sustained in a car wreck on Highway 77 north of the city Saturday night.

The injured are: Florence Jane Storey, Doris Fae Price, James Raney and Paul Fuller.

According to information the young people were on their way to Cameron when the car swerved from the highway, was overturned and wrecked. James Raney, son of Commissioner C. S. Raney of Buckholts, was the more severely injured of the four. He suffered head injuries and other hurts and may have to stay in the hospital for several days.

All were taken to Newton Memorial Hospital. Miss Storey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Storey suffered cuts and bruises and Miss Price, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Price, suffered severe wounds on the head. Mr. Fuller was badly bruised and suffered a broken thumb besides cuts. The latter three were due to leave the hospital late Monday.

The car in which the young people were riding was badly wrecked.

Edith Walton from Austin spent the week end with her parents in Cameron.

L. W. SMITH REPORTS BALLOON LIKE OBJECT

All things come to those who wait. Cameron's sky gazers were rewarded around 11 a. m. Wednesday when a flying disc wheeled over the city at a rapid rate of speed.

L. W. Smith of the Community Public Service Company, local observer for the United States Government Weather Bureau, saw the disc as did others.

Mr. Smith said that the flying object resembled a balloon and was colored. It was moving with the wind and going west in the directions of Buckholts.

He tried to follow in his car but when he had reached the edge of the city he lost site of the object.

Whether the disc was in reality similar to those that have been reported over the United States, was of course not determined.

It was at a comparatively low altitude and moving fast. The wind was from the east.

Balloons used by the Weather Service have been mistaken for the aluminum discs noted by many sky gazers. Mr. Smith said he would not say it was a disc as reported but may have been. It looked more like a balloon and the sunlight was making the object give off multicolored lights.

SUIT AGAINST RAILROAD IS SETTLED WEDNESDAY

H. S. Groves was awarded $1750 Wednesday in a compromise settlement of a suit he had filed against the Texas & New Orleans railroad for injuries sustained near Alice, Texas on January 22, 1947.

Groves retained a Dallas law firm who in turn after filing the suit here, employed Emory B. Camp of Camp & Camp. The railroad company was represented by O. L. Kidd and M. G. Cox.

Groves originally brought suit for $12,000 for the personal injuries he sustained.

FREE TESTING DAIRY COWS IS ANNOUNCED

Milam county farmers may have their dairy cows tested for tuberculosis during the next four weeks by Dr. John A. Phillips of the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry. This program is being carried out in cooperation with the Texas Livestock Sanitary Commission, and will be free of charge to all farmers who desire this service.

Animals found to be tubercular can be sold at an accredited market under federal supervision, and the owner will receive full market value plus a state and federal indemnity.

Farmers desiring this service should contact the county Agent's office at the earliest possible date.

Rev. N. R. Hawkins To Be in Pulpit At Presbyterian Church

Rev. N. R. Hawkins, president of the Presbyterian Home for orphan children at Itasca, will be in the pulpit of the church here Sunday.

Local Presbyterians will want to attend this service for a number of reasons, one of which is Robert Boatman, recently adopted by the church. Robert is 11 years old.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE DIRECTORS TO MEET

The Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce will hold their regular meeting to-night at 8 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce office. All directors are urged to be present.

BOLL WEEVILS WILL STEAL 25,000 new automobiles—or their cotton cash equivalent—from Cotton Belt farmers this season unless the farmer uses every possible control measure to combat the pest. Recommending that farmers in this area consult their county agent, vocational agriculture instructor, or state entomologist for controls most effective locally, the National Cotton Council says that failure to fight the weevil promptly will reduce the value of the cotton crop more than $100,000,000.

RUSSIA WALKS OUT IN ANGER OVER AID PLAN

PARIS, July 9.—The three power conference on American aid to Europe collapsed late today after Russia rejected British and French proposals for an economic steering committee and warned the two western powers "against the consequences" of going ahead without Soviet cooperation.

France and Britain promptly defied what British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin called the Soviet "threats" and announced they would pursue their attempts to implement the program of U. S. Secretary of State George C. Marshall along with all countries which want to join them.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov declared the British-French plan would result in "dividing Europe into two groups of states and creating new difficulties in the relations between them."

"The Soviet government considers it necessary to caution the governments of Great Britain and France against the consequences of such action," Molotov declared.

Bevin, in a heated outburst, called Molotov's statement a "travesty of facts" and made it clear that Britain would not be swayed from her decision to implement the Marshall plan.

A British foreign office spokesman quoted Bevin as saying he "regretted that Mr. Molotov had threatened that if we continue this beneficent work we must face grave consequences."

"Well, my country has faced grave consequences and threats before," Bevin was quoted as saying. "But it is not the sort of prospect which will deter us from doing what we consider our duty. Nevertheless, I profoundly regret that threat. Our policy is to dominate none and to cooperate with everyone."

"We shall work as closely as we can with the UN and inform it and its various bodies and all the governments of what we are doing."

JIM THOMAS IS FREE ON BOND OF $5000

SWEETWATER, July 8.—Jim Thomas, whose third conviction and life sentence on a charge of murder in the death of Dr. Roy Hunt of Littlefield was assessed by a Nolan County District Court jury last October and later was reversed, was free on $5,000 bond today.

Thomas has been in the Nolan County Jail since his third conviction. He was released last night after bond was set by District Judge A. S. Mauney and approved by Sheriff Bill Adams of Potter County and District Attorney Charles L. Nunn of Sweetwater.

Thomas said he had no plans for the immediate future but that he "might be on an extended fishing trip."

He has requested personally that he be tried in Nolan County District Court if a fourth trial of his case is held.

During his stay in the Nolan jail his five-year sentence from Lubbock on an assault to murder conviction was completed and he received a final discharge and a $50 voucher from State Penitentiary officials.

The bodies of Dr. and Mrs. Hunt were found mutilated and bound in their bed at their home on Oct. 26, 1943.

BEAT TAYLOR FRIDAY BY SCORE 15 TO 8

The Cameron Red Sox drew one step nearer the finals in the Central Texas League Sunday by defeating Taylor 15 to 8 in what was a scoring spree with Walston and Jackson doing the pitching and Michalka as catcher.

The Red Sox have won four out of five games in the second half play and have only two games remaining on their schedule. These two games are with Sparta and if the Sox win one or both they will go into the finals for the championship of the league.

The Sox have won nine of eleven of their games this season and look like sure winners if they get into the finals.

Tex Miller, manager of the team, has done a splendid job and deserves much praise. The people of Cameron should give more support to the team and do everything possible in a financial way to see that the boys complete their schedule.

Hood Village is scheduled to play Sunday but have withdrawn from the league and a Service team from Camp Hood are to fill in for Hood Village.

The Red Sox schedule has been financially successful but only because there are no paid men on the team. The club has brought good publicity to Cameron and any failure now to complete the schedule would be most unfortunate.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Sacrament" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 13.

The Golden Text is: "Let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth." (1 Corinthians 5:8).

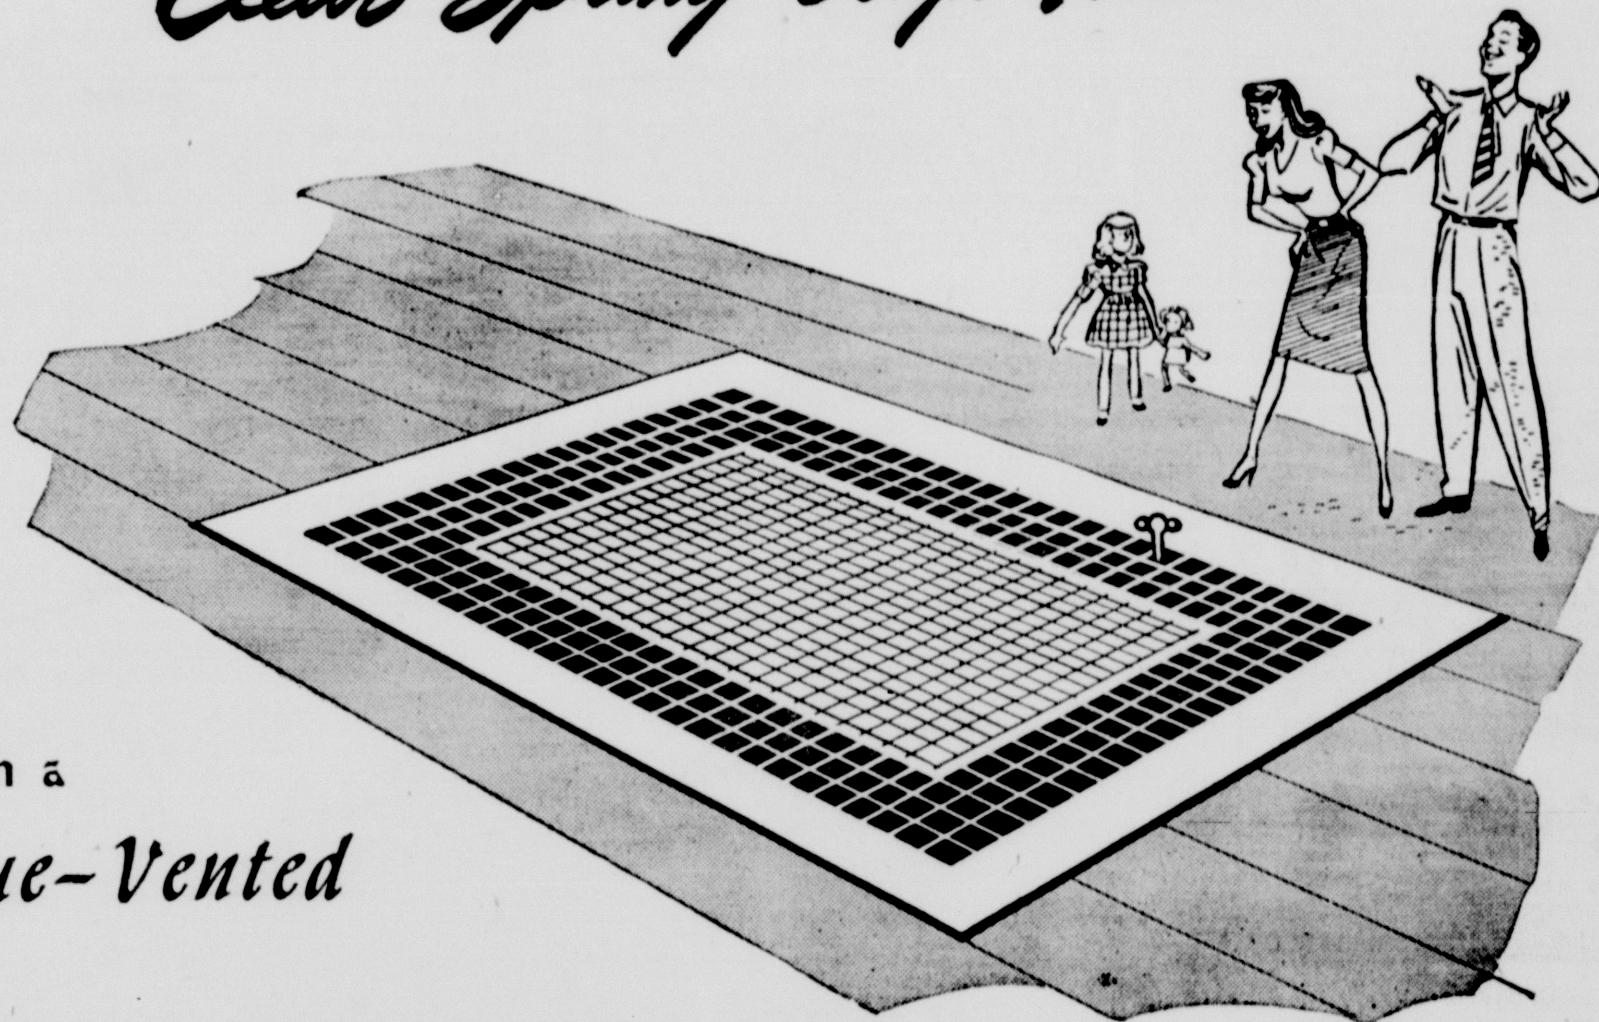

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Give unto the Lord the glory due unto his name: bring an offering, and come before him: worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness" (1 Chronicles 16:29).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "To keep the commandments of our Master and follow his example, is our proper debt to him and the only worthy evidence of our gratitude for all that he has done. Outward worship is not of itself sufficient to express loyal and heartfelt gratitude, since he has said: 'If ye love me, keep my commandments' (page 4).

When you approach a railroad crossing you are entering the railroad's right-of-way. # Looks that stay looked at

- and Ability to match

GIVE yourself five seconds, and you know that here's car styling as up to the minute as the time of day.

Spend a few fast minutes to see why — and you spot both smartness right from tomorrow's designing boards and everything that should go with it. Measure the reach and spread of that Buick bonnet, brim-filled with Fireball power.

Sweep your glance over the broad beam that spells room, the stretch that means easy-riding wheelbase, the size that tells of enough roadweight to end jounce and jitter.

Here, you tell yourself, is something to see. Here are looks to hold the eye for seasons to come — and lively, durable ability to match:

... Rich abundance of smooth, hushed Fireball horsepower from a straight-eight kept young and lively by Accurate cylinder finish.

... Tireless coil springing on all four wheels, leveling all roads to boulevard smoothness.

... Riding poise from two steadying tons of roadweight — ease of handling from balance to draw a ballet dancer's envy. Soft, roomy cushions seating three apiece — finish that's the very last word in richness and taste.

Yes, it takes no time at all to show that you and Buick belong together, should go together steady — so what's holding you back?

After all, we can't do much about getting one to you till you make your wishes plain. You do that simply by placing your order — which will get equal consideration whether or not you have a car to trade.

TUCK AWAY PLINY! Roomy luggage compartments hold plenty — and high-lifting lids make it easy to get at any piece.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Fish Bites Woman!

Willie Wells was coming home from Seward's Creek the other evening with a string of trout, when a stern looking lady (visitor at the Boxwood Inn) stops him, and tells him a man his size could be better occupied than catching fish.

Willie tells her off real good-naturedly by saying: "Perhaps you're right, but if these fish had kept their mouths shut, they wouldn't be here." (At that, says Willie, laughing out loud, she looked just as if a fish had bit her!)

Blabbing mouths never cause

anything but trouble. Nobody who knew the facts would ever criticize Willie's right to go fishing on his one day off — any more than they'd deny his right to come home to a mellow glass of beer.

From where I sit, the slower we are to criticize — and the quicker we are to recognize another's tastes, the better we'll get along together — whether those tastes apply to beer or fishing.

CAMERON BOYS SEND MARVEL SHIP ALOFT

A model sail plane with a 50 inch wing span, released here Saturday morning at the municipal airport was last seen some 10 miles from the field as it sped north at an altitude of 8000 feet.

The plane was built by Thomas Jackson and Harding Collins, one of a number they have flown at the field by releasing the small cable. The ships usually circle about the field and come down and are recovered.

The sail model released Saturday morning, after a preliminary cruise spiraled upward to a great height and leveled off at about 8000 feet and turned north with a tail wind in the direction of Waco.

The boys were greatly disappointed to have lost the fine ship and hope it may be found and returned to them. The ship is solid white, weighs about a pound, is constructed of Balsa wood and covered with thin tissue.

When the ship was seen to be climbing and traveling northward, G. H. Hickerson, manager of the field, hastily took off in a plane and followed. Thomas and Harding got in their car and sped along the highway. Both ship and car followed the tiny ship for 10 miles, abandoning the chase near Rosebud.

Several weeks were required to scale and build this model. Cameron young men and boys are displaying a fine interest in plane building. It is interesting also to note that the Army is interested in the work of boys with experimental models.

To the Tax Payers of Milam County

On April 18 the Commissioners Court entered into a contract with Chas. C. Smith, Jr., to collect delinquent taxes on commission of 15 per cent. During the previous year the Court also had employed Mr. Walker to collect taxes. That was before I went into office.

Under the new delinquent tax contract errors have been made and I am being blamed for them. I wish to correct these impressions. Mr. Smith in some way has made the mistake of mailing out notices from the record compiled by Mr. Walker and in so doing quite a number of tax payers who paid under Mr. Walker are now being billed for taxes they have already paid.

As Assessor and Collector of Taxes my name is used to certify to records and in this way many are blaming me. Quite a few have shown me receipts for taxes paid and are now being billed. I feel certain this will be understood but I want to correct any impression that these are my errors. I am in no way responsible.

Many of these tax payments were made before I came into office. I recognize that to make an error is human, but I do not want to be held responsible for errors made by others.

DRILL NIGHT

The top news last week about Battery C, 239 FA Bn. was that it received Federal recognition. Captain Rudolph Michalka, the Commanding Officer, had a letter from Colonel Martin of the Training Section, National Guard Bureau, Washington, D. C., notifying him officially of this. The battery was inspected on June 3rd, it will be remembered; Federal recognition means it now has cleared the last hurdle and becomes a part of the new post-war National Guard.

Recognition also means that the unit probably will receive vehicles, equipment and uniforms at an early date. Plans already have been made. Capt. Michalka said, for a motor pool at the battery's temporary armory in the old grammar school building on West Third Street, and a high fence will be erected to enclose the grounds.

Seen and heard during last Tuesday evening's drill period:

Major Brewster coming down from Battalion headquarters in Temple to give the outfit the once-over . . . and evidently liking what he saw . . . Also the major doing a little reminiscing about campaigns in the ETO . . . Capt Michalka writing a letter of recommendation to promote a certain private to corporal. Nice going, T. H. . . . Another man enlisting last week, and acting Supply Sgt. Mraz taking his measurements for his uniform . . . And an inquiry disclosing that 1st Sgt. "Cy" Jackson is still away at A&M "catching his learning". He'll be smartened up pretty soon now and be back . . . The lecture on General Orders . . . And the big discussion, started by instructor Sgt. Guest, about the proper wording of General Order No. 5 . . . "It wasn't like that in my manual!" . . . It seems that time, the army, and even General Orders, change . . . And here's an announcement or two:

Veterans may now enlist in the National Guard for one year instead of three, if they prefer. Any ex-GI can get all the dope from Capt. Michalka at the Cameron Machine Shop.

And in conclusion:

Paul Whiteman's "now and then" rendition of Carolina In The Morning on the National Guard Assembly radio program last Wednesday evening was something to hear . . . Incidentally, the show moves to Hollywood next week, and Bob Burns will be guest star . . . with his bazooka? . . . Careful with that thing . . . look what it did to the Japs and Germans . . .

And that's all for now. See you again.

Gloria Hearne was home for the week end with parents in Cameron. Gloria is working with the Scott and White Hospital in Temple.

Mrs. Jeff Cammer is in Denver, Colorado, on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Lay, and to see the new grand daughter, Maurine, now about 8 months old. Mrs. Lay is the former Miss Dorris Cammer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Cammer. While in the west Mrs. Cammer will visit points of interest including the Yellowstone National Park in Northern Wyoming.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wallace and children Jeanie and Martha and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wallace of Houston visited Mrs. Lee Wallace of Minerva over the week end.

HAVE YOU HEARD...

THE SPORT OF GREYHOUND RACING
IS 10000 YEARS OLDER
THAN HORSE RACING!

As early as 329 B.C., Egyptian Pharaohs enjoyed the sport of "coursing", as greyhound racing was called. For this purpose they used the African Saluki, a hound with tufted ears and tail.

Horse racing began in the 12th Century in England. A champion greyhound, fastest dog living, can run neck-and-neck with a race horse for 1/8 of a mile.

HAVE YOU HEARD... there's nothing can beat the grand-tastin' goodness of GRAND PRIZE. The full bodied flavor of this finer beer makes it the popular refreshment favorite with taste-wise Texans.

DRILL NIGHT

The top news last week about Battery C, 239 FA Bn. was that it received Federal recognition. Captain Rudolph Michalka, the Commanding Officer, had a letter from Colonel Martin of the Training Section, National Guard Bureau, Washington, D. C., notifying him officially of this. The battery was inspected on June 3rd, it will be remembered; Federal recognition means it now has cleared the last hurdle and becomes a part of the new post-war National Guard.

Recognition also means that the unit probably will receive vehicles, equipment and uniforms at an early date. Plans already have been made. Capt. Michalka said, for a motor pool at the battery's temporary armory in the old grammar school building on West Third Street, and a high fence will be erected to enclose the grounds.

Seen and heard during last Tuesday evening's drill period:

Major Brewster coming down from Battalion headquarters in Temple to give the outfit the once-over . . . and evidently liking what he saw . . .

Also the major doing a little reminiscing about campaigns in the ETO . . .

Capt. Michalka writing a letter of recommendation to promote a certain private to corporal. Nice going, T. H. . . .

Another man enlisting last week, and acting Supply Sgt. Mraz taking his measurements for his uniform . . .

And an inquiry disclosing that 1st Sgt. "Cy" Jackson is still away at A&M "catching his learning". He'll be smartened up pretty soon now and be back . . .

The lecture on General Orders . . . And the big discussion, started by instructor Sgt. Guest, about the proper wording of General Order No. 5 . . .

"It wasn't like that in my manual!" . . . It seems that time, the army, and even General Orders, change . . .

And here's an announcement or two:

Veterans may now enlist in the National Guard for one year instead of three, if they prefer. Any ex-GI can get all the dope from Capt. Michalka at the Cameron Machine Shop.

And in conclusion:

Paul Whiteman's "now and then" rendition of Carolina In The Morning on the National Guard Assembly radio program last Wednesday evening was something to hear . . .

Incidentally, the show moves to Hollywood next week, and Bob Burns will be guest star . . . with his bazooka? . . . Careful with that thing . . . look what it did to the Japs and Germans . . .

And that's all for now. See you again.

Does Advertising Pay? A foolish Question

More than any other factor in commerce whether it be manufacturing or retailing, Advertising has paid more dividends than any other dollar ever spent by business men.

Does Advertising Pay? A foolish question, yet the way some men treat their business, it is not surprising that some may guess they ponder the question.

Consistent space buying in your home town newspaper is the best investment you ever made, should be wisely done, properly prepared and be backed up with merchandise.

More money is spent for newspaper advertising than for any other commodity in the world. Quite a fact, don't you think? There's no better proof—and there is no substitute for newspaper advertising.

NON LEAGUE TILT IS DROPPED HERE SUNDAY

Under new management the Cameron Red Sox dropped a game Sunday to the Soldiers from Camp Hood by a score of 3 to 2.

It was a jam up contest and Hobson held the soldiers to one run to mid game when he was replaced with Philley who was a bit wild and walked in the winning run.

F. E. Jackson who succeeds Tex Miller as manager of the team, was also on the mound for the Sox. Pete Miller was catching.

Tex Miller who managed the team successfully with a record of 9 wins out of 10 games and with but two to go the Sox were certain to end up in the final playoff for the Championship.

Jackson has taken over and they must play two games with Sparta. The Camp Hood games were non-league games and the Sox will go to Camp Hood next Sunday for a return game.

MRS. F. E. EBERHARDT BURIED IN SAN ANTONIO

Among her survivors are her husband and four brothers, one of whom is A. E. Schiller of Cameron. Three sisters also survive.

Mr. Schiller is a well known Cameron business man and friends here extend their sympathy to him over the loss of his sister.

"Boomerang" Famous U. S. Crime Story Is Coming To Cameron

Bringing to its fullest realization a revolutionary new motion picture technique, "Boomerang!", the new Twentieth Century-Fox hit presented by Darryl F. Zanuck, opens Thursday at the Cameron Theatre. With Dana Andrews as its star, the picture tells an astounding stranger-than-fiction story that for sheer drama and absorbing entertainment is said to be unrivalled among the year's screen offerings.

"Boomerang!" marks the third picture Producer Louis de Rochemont has filmed employing the unique creative formula that draws its power from an utterly naturalistic treatment of a real-life story. The first was "The House on 92nd Street," taken from the files of the F. B. I. The second, "13 Rue Madeleine," was a factual story about Americans who worked with the French underground before the invasion.

"Boomerang!" brings exciting screen life to the strangest case in American court history—the gripping story of a man, a State's attorney, who placed a higher value on the life of another man than on his own political ambitions. When, during the 1920's, the case reached its spectacular climax in the courtroom of a Connecticut city, its dramatic impact was felt throughout the length and breadth of the country. Today, wherever story-tellers gather, it is this story that is invariably submitted as "Exhibit A" by the truth-is-stranger-than-fiction advocates.

Dana Andrews has what is acknowledged to be the most challenging role of his career—that of the State's attorney, Jane Wyatt, as his wife, and Lee J. Cobb, as the tormented chief of police, head the featured cast of the film which was directed by Elia Kazan who is remembered for his masterful handling of "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn."

HOLIDAY DEATH TOLL HAS NOW REACHED 475

At least 475 persons had been killed accidentally, 230 of them in automobile accidents, as the three-day Fourth of July week end neared its close Sunday night.

With the highways jammed with homebound motorists, the traffic toll approached the 241 fatalities during last year's four-day independence observance. The National Safety council had predicted 275 traffic deaths this year.

Since 6 p. m. (local time) Thursday, there also had been 149 drownings and five deaths from fireworks. Another 91 were dead from other accidental causes including several small plane crashes.

The highest Independence day accidental death toll in the last 20 years was in 1941 when 628 persons were killed over a three-day period.

Bobbie Jean McCown Wins Essay On Train Trip Taken May 23rd

Bobbie Jean McCown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCown of Cameron has been awarded a $2 prize for the best letter giving her impressions of the train ride from Milano to Rockdale on May 23 as school children were entertained.

A letter has been received from A. W. Johnson, traveling passenger agent of the Missouri Pacific lines announcing that Bobbie's letter is the best.

Bobby Jean is the grand daughter of Mrs. Meta McCown, a former member of the Herald staff. Mrs. Roy Hensley is teacher of the fifth grade in Ada Henderson School where Bobby Jean attends.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Love accompanied by their daughter, Joyce Ann of Temple and their son and family, Rev. and Mrs. Edgar Love and little son of Tollison, Arizona visited relatives and friends in Cameron last week. Rev. Love is pastor at First Baptist Church in that city. Miss Love has accepted a position in Temple High School where she will teach Bible for the coming year.

REPAIRS MAKE MOST OF TOTAL REPORTED

Building permits in Cameron for the month of June totaled $9,550.00 it was reported early Thursday by W. H. Stafford, City Secretary and Treasurer.

Mr. Stafford said that three of the permits were for as much as $1000 while the remainder represents small repair jobs running from $250 to $500.

Building activity has slackened and it was believed to be due to hot weather, as building materials are becoming more readily available.

As soon as the figures are available The Herald will bring its readers an official tabulation for the first six months of the year. Cameron's housing shortage is more acute than at any time in recent years and business building space seems more in demand than pre-war times.

Mrs. J. J. Jones who has been with her daughter, Mrs. E. H. Ross for some time has gone to Rockport where she will visit with her son, Harry Jones and family.

Mrs. Robert Michalka is again ill and a patient in the Newton Memorial Hospital. Friends will be glad to know she is making good progress.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Lehmberg and little son, James of Houston spent the holidays in Cameron visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Bailey and other relatives and friends.

SKY GAZERS HERE ARE AS YET UNREWARDED

Flying disks are over Cameron. Yes or no.

As the situation shaped up Tuesday you could just about take your choice. Sky gazers are as yet unrewarded but greatly encouraged for two of the disks have been reported found in Texas, one at Houston and the other near Hillsboro. If they are coming in from the Gulf region they are wheeling at great speed over Cameron.

Up to Tuesday some 50 people in Texas had reported seeing the disks. Military authorities were investigating the disk found near Trinity Bay near Houston.

The Houston Chronicle said a great deal of mystery surrounds the finding of the disk at Trinity Bay. Norman Hargrave a jeweler, said that he had found the disk floating in the water near the beach where with his wife he was spending the day. Later Hargrave said it was all a joke.

The newspaper, however said it had developed facts which tend to prove that Hargrave was telling the truth. He described it minutely and said it bore an inscription: "Military Secret of the United States of America, Army Air Forces M3339658. Anyone damaging or revealing description or whereabouts of missile subject to prosecution by the U. S. Government. Call collect at once LD446 Army Air Forces Depot, Spokane, Washington."
